

The sight of Adolph Joffe and the German chancellor, Dr. Wirth, in conversation recalls Joffe's very sudden expulsion from Berlin four years ago. He was then bolshevist ambassador in Berlin, according to Lloyd George, greets Maxim Litvinoff. Their attitudes here do not in the least suggest the story of the time Litvinoff had in England before he became Tchitcherine's chief assistant in Moscow.

of the economic conference, have been straightened out under the firm dictatorship of Premier Lloyd George.

These results of the Genoa party are within sight:

- 1—Readmission of Russia into the family of nations.
- 2—Agreement among European powers providing for non-aggression.
- 3—Economic, financial and transportation agreements among the leading powers represented.

Allied sponsors of the conference, in talks with the United Press, today pointed out that in the first two days at Genoa four imposing obstacles have been overcome.

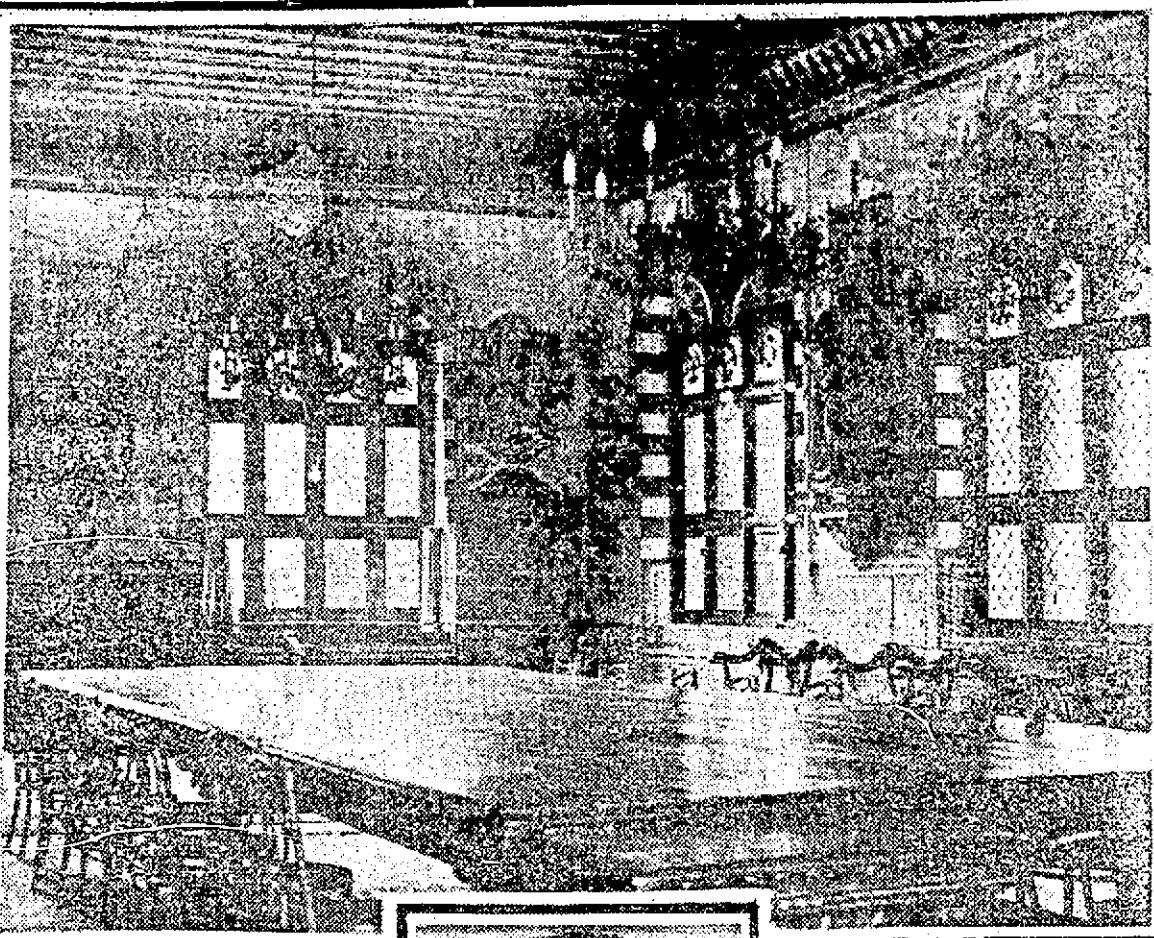

- 1—Alignment of powers, which was one of the most critical issues, involving a choice between allied dictation to the conference or re-establishment of European nations upon equal terms, has been arranged, through assistance upon a measure of equality for all. Lloyd George, if he has not secured complete equality for Russia and Germany, has at least secured their representation on the main councils with full opportunity to voice their own views.
- 2—The Cannes resolutions have survived the initial test and the conference now has an established basis for its deliberations.
- 3—The intangible, yet fearful, question of the probable behavior of the Russian representatives has been satisfactorily straightened out by Tchitcherine's gracious compliance with Lloyd George's demands.
- 4—The question of how the various committees should be constituted has apparently been satisfactorily settled. This latter question, however, may still cause trouble for those small powers not represented on the political commission, which includes Lloyd George, Barthou, Schanzer, Theunis, Ishii, Wirth, Tchitcherine, Branting, Motta, Skirmut and Brattiano are protesting that since this group controls the conference they might as well go home.

Prayers Said for Success of Parley

GENOA, April 12 (By the Associated Press).—Prayers were said in the churches of Genoa today for the success of the economic conference. Thronging of worshippers gathered to offer petitions for a blessing on the deliberations of the meeting. At midnight, Monsignor Simonetti, archbishop of Genoa, celebrated mass and delivered a sermon emphasizing the historical moment through which Genoa and Europe are passing.

BRIBERY OFFER IS ALLEGED IN STILLMAN CASE

French Canadian Says He Refused $5000 for Evidence on Misconduct.

MONTREAL, April 12.—Ferdinand Page, French-Canadian, yesterday testified in the trial of the Stillman divorce case that he was offered $5000 to testify he witnessed misconduct between Mrs. Anne M. Stillman and Fred Beauvais. One of his neighbors, Shaf Simond, testified that he overheard an offer of $5000 for such testimony by two men who later testified in behalf of Stillman.

Page declared that he spurned the offer, and his wife, Mary Page, who said she overheard a conversation between her husband and J. Albert Lafontaine, station agent at La Tuque, Quebec, either in June or July, 1920, corroborated the testimony. The defendant

INDEMNITY PLAN VITAL, ASSERTS GOTHAM BANKER

Parley Should Discuss Reparations, Frank Vanderlip Believes.

GENOA, April 12.—Frank A. Vanderlip, American financier, who is here observing the Genoa conference, today declared the conference cannot succeed completely unless the question of reparations is discussed here.

Vanderlip, in his first criticism of the conference, came to the defense of the German demand that reparations be brought up at Genoa, and declared that many of Europe's ills, which the parley met to heal, are directly traceable to uncertainty on this issue.

"While it is impossible for me to judge the prospects at Genoa, because I am not even determined how the conference is to proceed, I am doubtful of Genoa's ability materially to promote a European economic revival without a discussion of reparations," Vanderlip said.

"While I am not passing on the wisdom of the statesmen who convened the conference, in barring reparations for discussion, the fact remains that the fact reconstruct Europe unless Germany also is reconstructed. Inflation of currency, which is most damaging to European financial stability, can be traced to uncertainty of reparations. Moreover, it will be most difficult to balance budgets without a discussion of reparations."

RHINE ARMY PAY PLEGGED TO U. S. BY LORD CURZON

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Secretary Hughes has received from Ambassador Harvey in London a note from Lord Curzon, foreign secretary, which stated that the government of Great Britain would not in any circumstances desire to question the rights of the United States in its claims for payment of costs of the American army of occupation in Germany.

The plan provides for similar concessions and guarantees for the resumption of commerce, the state to have retaining control of its monopoly in consumables and raw materials. The entire state control, even in this, is reducible as normal relations are increased. The plan further provides for disarmament, provided it is not a reciprocal effort on the part of other states.

Secretary Hughes later transmitted a note to Ambassador Harvey for delivery to the British foreign office expressing his gratification for Lord Curzon's letter and expressing hope that reimbursement for costs of the United States army in the Rhineland soon would be made.

Secretary Hughes instructed Ambassador Harvey to say in reply: "I am directed by my government to express its gratification at the tenor of the response which your lordship has made to the communication relative to the payment of the costs of the American army of occupation on the Rhine."

"Permit me to join your lordship in the hope that it may be possible to reach a speedy and satisfactory conclusion of the matter."

Hughes directed that similar replies be made to communications of the same character recently received from the French and Belgian governments.

Russians Handed Allied Plans for Restoration

GENOA, April 12.—(By the Associated Press).—The report of the allied experts meeting in London relating to the program for the restoration of Russia and of Europe, a copy of which the Associated Press has obtained, embodies a comprehensive scheme whereby it is hoped to bring back Europe, including Russia, to healthful prosperity.

This report, marked "confidential," has been handed to M. Tchitcherine, head of the Russian delegation, who asked until Thursday to study the preamble.

It declares that the restoration of Russia depends in great part upon assistance which Russia will be able to obtain from foreign enterprise and capital, but insists that without profound transformation of the actual conditions in Russia, which affect commerce in Russia, foreign enterprise will refuse either to resume old enterprises or begin new ones.

LIQUIDATION OF PAST.
Under chapter one, headed "Liquidation of the past," article one declares that the soviet government should accept the financial obligations of its predecessors, namely the provisional government, and includes obligations to foreign owners and their nationals.

Article two provides for recognition by the soviet of the financial statements of all Russian authorities, provincial or local, and also public utility enterprises connected with other powers of their peoples.

Article four says that the responsibility should assume responsibility for all material damage suffered by foreigners in consequence of the acts or negligence of the soviet or its predecessors.

Article four says that the responsibilities mentioned in the preceding articles will be fixed by the commission on the Russian debt and by mixed arbitration tribunals to be created.

Article five declares that all debts, responsibilities and obligations toward foreign government and the Russian government since August 1, 1914, shall be considered as entirely effaced by the payment of sums to be fixed in a future agreement.

The report presents three annexes and explains that suggestions concerning guarantees on which Russia's debt will be treated as different solutions were brought forward by the powers represented at the London conference, and that no agreement was reached. These solutions are printed in parallel columns when differences occur.

Annex one explains the duties of the commission on the Russian debt. These include the fixing of a constitution and the procedure of the mixed tribunals, also the delivery of new Russian obligations on bonds by virtue of the decisions of the mixed tribunals.

The succeeding annexes establish a system for determining Russia's debt and the proper steps for serving the rights of the creditors. Russia's obligations will be legally entered into by Russia.

Very large powers are accorded to the debt commission, which will be composed of Russian government and others appointed by the other powers, with an independent president, who will be chosen from the powers or designated by the League of Nations.

Ex-Premier Heads Russian Commission
GENOA, April 12 (By the Associated Press).—The economic conference's commission on Russia is presided over by Premier Facta of Italy, the commission on finance is headed by an English delegate, the commission on economies by a French representative, and the commission on transport by a Belgian delegate.

Janet Curzon is intended to preside over any commission on the ground of being so distant from Europe that she prefers that the work of the commissions be directed by Europeans.

The Russian delegates recognized that to secure foreign capital Russia must insure adequate returns and ample guarantees. The delegates, therefore, will submit to the conference a new judicial code covering foreign capital and property and individual rights in Russia. Russia does not intend to grant any concessions of her soil or the great elementary industries, which belong to the state, but will widen the field of the state rights in granting concessions to mines, factories, forests and cultivable lands under full legal guarantees which are now being prepared, including provision for settling disputes arising between Russians and foreigners.

The plan provides for similar concessions and guarantees for the resumption of commerce, the state to have retaining control of its monopoly in consumables and raw materials. The entire state control, even in this, is reducible as normal relations are increased. The plan further provides for disarmament, provided it is not a reciprocal effort on the part of other states.

Secretary Hughes later transmitted a note to Ambassador Harvey for delivery to the British foreign office expressing his gratification for Lord Curzon's letter and expressing hope that reimbursement for costs of the United States army in the Rhineland soon would be made.

Secretary Hughes instructed Ambassador Harvey to say in reply: "I am directed by my government to express its gratification at the tenor of the response which your lordship has made to the communication relative to the payment of the costs of the American army of occupation on the Rhine."

"Permit me to join your lordship in the hope that it may be possible to reach a speedy and satisfactory conclusion of the matter."

Hughes directed that similar replies be made to communications of the same character recently received from the French and Belgian governments.

Bond Reduced in 'Lost' Booze Case
SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Attorney John W. Preston appeared today in the federal court in behalf of Paul Schalmann, indicted yesterday, charged with making a false affidavit in connection with the disappearance of $275 worth of whiskey. On Preston's personal guarantee that Schalmann would be in court when wanted, the bonds were reduced from $21,000 to $10,000.

FATHERS OUT OF RADIO DISCUSSIONS

"Say, Jim! Is your boy smitten with this radio craze, too? It's a fact, but I am way behind the times when Robert gets to talking about 'receivers,' 'broadcasts,' 'rectifiers' and 'wave lengths.' Darn if the kid doesn't know what he's talking about, too. He's studying radio all his extra time and saving his money for a radio outfit. Sounds interesting, too. I'll have to look up this radio business myself. Can't let the youngster get away from me on that."

"Sure, my kid is at it, too. He has saved almost enough to get the kind of outfit he wants and he's delicious with joy. Since he got the radio craze he has lost interest in wearing any decent clothes or anything else. He had been buying his own clothes, but if I don't want him to disgrace us I guess I'll have to get him an outfit. Need a new suit myself, too. Don't know when I can afford to get them both."

"Say, why don't you go to 623 13th street and buy your clothes at Cherry's? Good values and you buy on credit. They will let you make practically any arrangement for an initial payment and later monthly installments." Cherry's store for women is at 615 13th street.—Advertisement.

Nervous Stomach Causes Gas

Gas in the stomach and bowels doesn't always result from dyspepsia, improper diet or the formation of food. In most cases it is due to a highly sensitive condition of the stomach nerves.

To get rid of the trouble, you must build up and strengthen these weak, irritated nerves of the stomach. Faking artificial digesters such as popsin or bismuth, only makes the stomach weaker than ever. It is like using dope to deaden a pain—the relief given is deceptive and harmful.

Baumman's Gas Tablets act directly upon the affected nerves and gradually assist in restoring them to their natural healthy state. Gas and bloating will quickly disappear and you will no longer be bothered with gas around your heart, palpitation, shortness of breath, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, distress after eating, due to gas. Ask for Baumman's Gas Tablets in the famous yellow package. Sold by the Owl Drug Company and all reliable druggists. J. Baumman, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

over, though the specific rates, and more particularly those on foodstuffs, are somewhat higher.

Exact comparisons of the ad valorem duties in the two bills are somewhat difficult, due to the fact that the Senate committee threw overboard the House American valuation plan, returning to the foreign valuation principle.

In the fight over the tariff opposition will not be confined to the Democratic side. Senator Smoot of Utah, ranking Republican on the finance committee, plans to take the floor in his fight for duties on sugar higher than the two cents a pound on full duty and 1.50 cents a pound on Cuban raw, which are now in force in the emergency tariff and which the committee has recommended.

Immediately after the bill was introduced the effort to raise the seven cents a pound rate on long staple cotton, now in the emergency law and approved by the committee, was launched. Senator Cameron, Republican, Arizona, introducing an amendment to make the rate 15 cents, the figure urged by producers of this cotton in his and other southwestern states, and by the Republican agricultural tariff bloc.

Ohio Town Cuts Fire, Police Departments

Oles announced today that he would lay off within ten days, all members of the police and fire departments, except twenty-five in each department. The city has no money to pay salaries, and the banks have refused to lend any.

Crazed Man Takes Refuge In Elevator

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—For three hours early today Edward Samuel, a 200-pound janitor, dashed from the basement to the thirteenth floor of the Rialto building here in an elevator, while janitors, policemen and any other M. Marty, owner of the building, tried to induce him to call it a night and leave his cage.

Cruelty was the charge and the wife, not yet 21, declared that she was forced to support herself and two children on 25 cents a day with an addition of $2.50 a month, obtained by washing clothes which her spouse brought to her. She was given $35 monthly alimony.

WOMAN JUROR TALKED OF CASE, AVERS WITNESS

Shipyard Worker Says Juror
Was Approached by Mrs.
Wassman.

Testimony that Mrs. Katrina Wassman, of 533 Eleise street, San Leandro, juror in the burglary trial of Peter Martioli, opened a conversation with Robert Jarvis, the complaining witness in the case, in the courthouse corridor during the trial today complicated a court investigation which was originally based upon Mrs. Wassman's charge that Jarvis had first approached her and attempted to influence her decision as a juror.

The testimony accusing Mrs. Wassman was given by Walter W. Brown, a shipyard worker, living at 532 Fourth street. He was called as a witness for Jarvis after Deputy District Attorney Preston Higgins and Wade Snook had placed each of the twelve jurors in the Martioli case on the witness stand to tell what they knew about the affair. None of them could recall having witnessed the alleged conversation between Mrs. Wassman and Jarvis, which, according to both, occurred as the jury was filing out of the courtroom during the noon recess of the trial.

MILLIONS ARE RECOVERED ON WAR CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, April 12 (By Associated Press).—In a formal statement replying to charges made yesterday by the House, Secretary Weeks declared today that the war department was doing "everything possible" to clear up war contract controversies in such a way as to protect fully the interests of the federal government.

Cash and property amounting to many millions already had been recovered in the recoupling ordered by the present administration, the secretary said, and other contracts were being reviewed as rapidly as possible.

WOMAN TONGUE WAGS OFFENDER OUT OF COURT

By International News Service. SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 12.—Take out your pencil and jot this down in your notebook as another very odd thing: The wagging tongue of a woman has been found useful to Herbert Hayes, who stood before the bar of justice in city court here, Hayes was charged with turning off the lights when he parked his car.

For an hour a Salvation Army lass—testifying in his behalf—detailed to the judge the benighted tales of love for a paralytic father on the part of young Hayes. She refused to be interrupted with questions from the presiding official. The courtroom spectators sighed. It was a languid sort of entertainment. "That'll do," finally interrupted the judge. "You've talked long enough. Give us a rest. Case dismissed."

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 12.—Two outbreaks of violence in connection with the national coal strike in the New River field of West Virginia, were reported to state police today.

Miners on their way from Mount Hope to Oswald were fired upon from the hillside early today and one man was wounded. Four arrests were made by state police. The home of James Penn, a non-union worker at Sylva, near Beckley was blown up by dynamite during the night. No one was injured.

Tax Reduction for Exporters Is Urged

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(By International News Service).—A $10,000,000 income tax reduction to exporters using American ships was urged today by Norman B. Beecher recommended the reduction as a means of insuring "full cargoes" for American ships.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Paul Schinmann was indicted yesterday by Federal grand jury because of the alleged disappearance of 3000 gallons of whisky from a warehouse at 274 Battery street. Schinmann was formerly a wholesale liquor dealer at that address. The liquor is said to have disappeared between December, 1920, and February, 1921.

WILL WOOD IN ADDRESS WARNS OF INTOLERANCE

School Chief and Governor Speak at Pasadena School Meet.

PASADENA, April 12.—A warning against intolerance was voiced before the convention of the California Association of High School Principals yesterday by Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction.

The shadow of intolerance, falling across the path of humankind throughout the ages, has retarded human progress, he said. "By keeping men in darkness, it has numbered its victims by millions and cramped the souls of nations and races."

"It is indeed strange that men and parties and creeds should seek by violence or near-violence means to check the growth or modification of ideas and ideals. It was close-mindedness that caused Jesus of Nazareth to die on the cross, Socrates to drink the hemlock and Galileo to be thrust into prison. Yet each of these characters is today reckoned as among the greatest benefactors of mankind."

Other speakers today included Governor Wm. D. Stephens, E. H. Barker of Santa Ana and Mrs. Charles F. Gray, first vice-president of the California Parent-Teachers' Association and the Congress of Mothers.

Governor Stephens praised the schools and teachers and the record made by the state in furthering the cause of education. He declared the state department of education, as now constituted, had saved thousands of dollars to taxpayers. He reviewed legislation affecting schools in recent years and said the high school enrollment in California was larger than that of any other state in the union.

TWO TEST AT GUILLOTINE.

MARSEILLES, April 12.—"Nice day," said Gilbert Buoy laughingly, as he was led to the guillotine with Jerome Marcheselli. "Fretful I ever saw," replied his companion. Then both were beheaded for murder.

STARLIGHT

Virginia Fairfax, daughter of the first families of Virginia, rebels against the puritanical rule of her grandfather and, lured by Hollywood, runs away to become a motion picture actress. Arriving in Los Angeles, she meets Gloria Summers, who is in the movies. They become warm friends. They meet Herbert Richardson, a wealthy young man who has been interested in Gloria. Gloria accepts Richard for herself and Virginia, Herbert Richardson's invitation to a party. Gloria and Virginia plead that they must leave early. News came of the serious illness of Kitty Dalton—the direct result of the wild party. Tommy Warner came with the news that Gloria and Herbert Richardson were to be married that night. Gloria was then to go out of town to take care of Kitty Dalton. Gloria and Herbert were married by Rev. John Storm. John Storm became interested in Virginia.

AFTER THE WEDDING. I knew that I had to be at the studio at nine. I thought over the girls that I had met and wondered if any of them could fill Rita's place. I could think of none who would qualify. Finally about two o'clock in the morning Rita called softly: "Virgie, are you asleep?"

"No, I have not been asleep." In a few minutes she appeared at my bedside enveloped in her coat and with a pillow in her arms. Putting the pillow at her back, she seated herself at the foot of my bed facing me.

"Let's plan it all out, even if we don't carry out the plan," she suggested. "Of course I don't know how soon Kitty Dalton will be able to leave the hospital. I don't imagine that I will be able to get away tomorrow. I am waiting for the physicians. In the meantime, John Storm will have talked with Kitty and prepared her somewhat for my part of the plan."

"I don't think Kitty has been told yet that her eyes are in great danger. John will have to explain that to her, because otherwise nothing could make Kitty Dalton leave here. Life in the movies is the only life she enjoys."

"You are not going to have an easy time, Rita," I warned sympathetically. "No," she mused, more to herself than to me. "It is going to be fierce for Kitty is the kind of girl that would go wrong anywhere. She drifted into the movies because she thought it was a splendid field in which to gamble—for she is a gambler—hoping to get the best of those with whom she plays. She is going to suspect me and my motive. I do not know whether I dare tell her that I am putting up the money. Certainly I will not dare tell her that I am Herbert's wife."

I shall never forget the intonation of Gloria's voice as she said, "Herbert's wife." Into it was woven all the melody of love, the harmony of great desires and the minor strains of absolute devotion.

These tones I heard the same ecstasy that I saw on Rita's face as

DR. LORENZ TO MAKE HOME IN UNITED STATES

Famous Surgeon Sails Away, But Will Return to Stay in the Fall.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Dr. Adolf Lorenz was a passenger on the La France, sailing for Europe today. He is accompanied by Anton Wedl, Imperial, who induced him to come to this country.

Dr. Lorenz, who treated thousands of cripples during his visit, was forced to curtail his operations because of the opposition he met from members of his own profession throughout the country. He finally conducted free clinics under the guidance of New York's health department, until he secured a license from the state. Later he held clinics in New Jersey and Detroit.

He is coming back to stay in September and will bring his family, which consists of his wife and two sons, with him. The elder son, who is 36, is a physician and his father's chief surgical assistant, having taken care of his practice in Vienna. His father was in this country for the first time about early 18, will enter Columbia next fall, preparatory to beginning a medical career.

Wary from the work that he has performed here, Dr. Lorenz, who is 58, said:

"It is true that at times I have seemed in danger of being killed by kindness. The great friendliness which greeted me and surrounded me everywhere is something I shall always remember. It gave me strength to do my work in the face of hostility—I will not say that—but of obstacles which were placed in my way by some members of my profession."

This oblique reference was the only comment he would make on the unfriendly attitude of certain sections of the American medical profession, which began so prominently in the early stages of his visit as to arouse widespread newspaper comment and virtually amount to a boycott against him in certain hospitals and clinics.

When it was suggested to him that he might like America well enough on his return to become an American citizen, he said:

"I hope my son will become an American citizen."

He came out of the lighted room into the darkness at John Storm's house in Riverside. I wondered how long she would be able to live "in the rarefied atmosphere of the mountain top," as John Storm had expressed it.

Eagle Scout Created By Court of Honor

A new Eagle Scout, Ashton Stanley of troop 24, was created at last night's court of honor, held by the Oakland Boy Scout council in the city hall.

Stanley was awarded merit badges in automobilism, cooking and pioneering, which gave him a sufficient number to make the rank of Eagle, the highest within the Scout organization.

Boys from five other troops passed tests and were awarded merit badges at the same session. They were:

Troop 13—Loris Bechtel, music, athletics, pioneering and craftsman; Jack Du Frane, automobilism; Eugene Schulteis, mining.

Troop 32—Hugh Avery, automobilism; Roger Bourke, interpreting and signaling; Jack Du Frane, automobilism; Eugene Schulteis, mining.

Troop 40—Harold Mock, physical development, personal health and first aid; Andrew Yakas, first aid to animals, personal health and safety first.

Troop 43—Edwin Halliday, pioneering.

The next regular day court of honor will be held April 21, it was announced.

Jewelry, Clothing Taken by Thieves

Jewelry and clothing valued at several hundred dollars were stolen by burglars who entered the home of Joseph Montoni, 2228 Linden street. Montoni told the police that the front door had been left open yesterday afternoon so that his daughter could get into the house after school.

A hand grip and several suits of clothes were taken from the room of John Slavick, 1755 Fifth avenue. Entrance was gained by using a pass key.

Fanatic Attempts To Approach Prince

MADRAS, April 12.—It has just become known that during the visit of the Prince of Wales here a fanatic follower of Gandhi, the Indian agitator, attempted to approach the royal visitor. He was intercepted by loyal natives, who turned him over to the police. They found their prisoner was heavily armed. He denied any intention of harming the Prince, but the authorities believe he would have shot the Prince if he had not been seized.

CHEWING SEED OF SUNFLOWER IS RUSS HABIT

MOSCOW, April 12.—The sun flower seed is the chewing gum and the peanut of Russia. Wherever you go you will see some one with a pocketful of these black seeds. People are always munching them.

The sun flower seed has always been a national habit in Russia, just as chewing gum and peanuts have been in America and in these days of food scarcity and enormous prices it has become a staple diet. There is only a very small amount of nourishment in these little black seeds, but they provide some bulk and help to deceive the stomach into thinking it has had some real food.

Walking along one of the principal streets of Moscow, where everyone is trying to sell something from wood and furs and cigarettes to samovars and embroidery, one will see many old women with baskets of sun flower seeds and small tumbler to measure them out for the purchasers. The customary price in Moscow is 50,000 rubles a tumbler. In the old days this would have been $25.00 but now it is worth approximately 5 cents.

In one town on the Asiatic border of Russia where the American Relief Administration men were working they saw muddy slime being sold on the street for food.

VLADIVOSTOK NOW JAPANESE PORT

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Vladivostok is rapidly becoming a principal Japanese shipping point, according to trade reports received by the Department of Commerce.

The importance of Vladivostok for Japanese shipping is indicated by the fact that two-thirds of the cargo traffic through that Siberian seaport during 1931 was carried in Japanese bottoms. For 1932 it is estimated that the quantity of cereals alone that will be sent from Manchuria to Japan through Vladivostok will amount to about 242,000 long tons, according to Trade Commissioner Mayer at Vladivostok.

For the purpose of purchasing and exporting Manchurian products to Japan by this more advantageous route a new Japanese transport company known as "Vladivostok-Unio," representing a union of Japanese import, export and shipping companies, including the great shipping firms of Mitsubishi, Suzuki, Mori, Mitsuie and Shosen Kaisha, has established headquarters in Harbin and a branch in Vladivostok.

The commercial line of the Russian Volunteer Fleet, which has been idle for some months, is to resume the run from Vladivostok to Japan. An additional number of Japanese steamers will probably be pressed into service, it is said. The steamship line, Count Kaizerling, is also renewing its activities.

'INSIDE JOB' IS PROMISE THAT LURED LEADER

Thompson Says He Knocked Out Bandit to Protect Hart Family.

REDWOOD CITY, April 12.—An inside job with everything fixed and nothing to do but cart away the booze.

That was the manner in which the gang described the booze raid on the Menlo Park mansion of Julien Hart to Arnold J. Thompson, to get him to "come in on it," according to Thompson, who is being held in jail here today following his arrest Monday night. Thompson is the polite bandit chief who, with the gang, invaded the Hart home on the night of March 1 and removed 100 cases of whiskey valued at $25,000.

PROTECTS WOMEN.

He is the member of the gang who protected the women of the household from insults from one of the robbers, and enforced his law by knocking the offender down three times. He also kept him from frightening the children.

Clifford Rollins, the member of the gang who felt Thompson's wrath, is being held by the police awaiting trial.

KNOCKS OUT ROLLINS.

"Do you know I had to knock this fellow Rollins out three times?" Thompson asked yesterday as he was being led back to his cell following his arraignment. "Rollins is a bad actor when he's drunk. Why I had to take a gun away from him when he was in the kid's bedroom. You never know what he might have done."

"After he had taken a few drinks Rollins insisted that he be left to guard the Conway girl, but when he attempted to annoy her I had to interfere. I knocked him out then, but he came to in a few minutes and I was forced to repeat. That second blow quieted him for a few minutes."

"But a little while later he went into the bedroom of the Hart child. He scared little Billy Hart so that the boy fainted. It was there I found him, took the gun from him and ordered him out of the room."

SHELTERED LIFE REMOVES 'PEP' FROM SALMON

OTTAWA, April 12.—Government fish hatcheries have ruined the "morale" of the salmon of British Columbia, according to the story told to the House of Commons by A. W. Neill, independent (comox-alberta). It seems that when the wee salmon come into the world at the fish hatchery they are guarded against all enemies and lose their protective instinct. So when the salmon has come to age and is sent out in the cold world he is as "tame as a cat," to use Neill's expression, and when he meets an enemy he "stands with his mouth open and accepts murder as if such a thing was foreordained."

Dik Dik Hide May Be Used for Fur

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The Dik Dik, a gazelle found in North-eastern Africa, may be used as a fur as well as a skin if investigations now being carried on are successful. It is reported to the Department of Commerce by Consul Cross at Aden. Before the war Dik Dik was used as a skin in the manufacture of gloves, but now efforts are being made to utilize the skin as a fur, either in trimmings or coats for which its muskrat color would seem to adapt it.

TWINS, AGED 90, PRESCRIBE WORK FOR LONGEVITY

LEAVENWORTH, April 12.—Friends of James and Joel Cheatewood, twins who celebrated their nineteenth birthday anniversary last October 11 on the farm of the former near here, are prone to dispute the claim of the Woodville, O., twins, William H. Sr. and Henry Drums to the title of "oldest living twins in the United States," at the age of 88. The recipe for long life of the Kansas twins is similar to that of the Ohioans—"Work." Each of the Cheatewood twins owns a farm and works on it daily. Pleas of relatives for the twins to retire, always have provoked a protest. "Our chief enjoyment in life is working on our farms. If we hadn't kept busy all these years we probably would have died long ago."

U. S. Uniforms Now Grace Paris Taxis

PARIS, April 12.—Doughboys serving in France when they saw huge stocks of American uniforms piled up in the Quartermaster's Department little thought that one day those same uniforms would adorn the inside of Parisian taxicabs. That has been their fate, however.

When the stocks were sold in France the buyer bargained as many uniforms as he could to buy Scout associations, foreign armies and automobile drivers. Even so, he had a big stock left and, despairing ever to find a new war or a new army where the uniforms might be used, he turned to taxicab companies, and they took them primarily with the object of issuing them to drivers. Instead of so doing, they had them cut up and used to upholster taxicabs, and Paris now has khaki autos in her streets. remarked: "I'm going to keep right on working and whistling a tune as long as I can."

EDITORIAL BODY TO TOUR MONTANA DURING MEETING

Visiting Newspaper Men in Missoula for Annual Session.

MISSOULA, Mont., April 12.—A tour of Montana, with a visit to Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks, has been arranged in connection with the thirty-seventh annual convention of the National Editorial Association here in July. The editors have been invited to participate in a celebration of the semi-centennial of the opening of Yellowstone.

President Harding has been invited to address the convention. He is a member of the association and is expected to stop off here in connection with his Alaska trip. The precise date of the opening of the convention is yet to be determined, but it probably will be July 11.

Preparations have been made for two special trains to transport the editors during their tour, stopping at twenty or more towns and passing through the mining and agricultural districts of Montana. When the editors arrive in Glacier National Park they will be greeted by the Blackfoot Indians. Part of the trip will be by water.

Missoula is making extensive plans to entertain the editors during the three days they will be here. A city of 15,000, it is the seat of the University of Montana and the horticultural center of the state.

Business Men Should Walk More

WASHINGTON, April 12.—General Charles G. Dawes, the President's economy engineer, keeps "fit" by taking long hikes. "A long walk in the early morning air of spring is the best tonic on earth," said Dawes. "What the jaded business man needs is more hiking and less riding according to Dawes. Too many jaundiced business men are sweeping themselves rapidly toward the grave by living lives of ease and luxury," Dawes said. General Dawes, before breakfast each day, whets his appetite by stretching out for a four or five-mile jaunt through the parks and bridle paths that extend for miles through Washington's city limits. It's his chief recreation.

When Will There Be A Disarmament of Dining Tables?

Suppose everybody would recognize the fact that there's no gain but much loss in keeping up hostilities with the stomach!

Suppose the ancient aggravation of improper food on indignant digestive organs should be settled with guarantees of sensible diet and tranquil digestion!

The saving would be beyond all possibility of counting.

Yet millions go on declaring war on the stomach and accepting war in return—loading up on starchy, heavy, unbalanced and highly-seasoned food at breakfast or lunch—and wondering why comfort, happiness and efficiency are out of reach.

Why this contest?

This is the first gun in the 1922 Orange-Crush campaign. This year you will hear lots about "his drink, and about the companion drinks, Lemon-Crush and Lime-Crush. This contest is to get everybody thinking about the "Crushes" at the very start of Spring.

The picture here shown is by Norman Rockwell, the famous artist. It was painted especially for Orange-Crush Company. Soon you will see it in beautiful colors, displayed wherever Orange-Crush is sold. Now we want a title for the picture.

At the close of the contest a committee of judges will decide which are the best titles submitted. The prizes are listed elsewhere in this advertisement.

Read these facts about Orange-Crush—they will help you think of a title: This is the seventh year of this famous drink. It is the largest selling fruit-flavored beverage in the world, due to its purity, quality and deliciousness. Many imitations have arisen, but none has ever approached the original Ward's Orange-Crush. The flavors in Orange-Crush, Lemon-Crush and Lime-Crush are genuine, obtained entirely from citrus fruits. Each delicious finished drink is a compound of fruit oils and fruit juices obtained from oranges, lemons or limes, finest cane sugar, U.S. certified food color, carbonated water and citric acid (natural acid of citrus fruits).

Get busy now. Put on your thinking cap and think of a title for the picture. See the list of prizes. Read the simple rules. Send or bring your title without delay. You may win First Prize.

Rules of Contest

The contest is now open. It will close Saturday, May 6, 1922, at noon. Everybody can join, except our employees. All you need to do is to write your title on a sheet of paper, sign your name and address beneath, and leave it with any drink dealer, or mail or bring it to the bottling company's address given below. Write plainly. Use one side of paper only. You can suggest more than one title—as many as you wish. Titles may be original or may be a quotation.
Titles will be judged by three judges selected from well known citizens of this community. Decisions will be final.
By "best" is understood that title which most cleverly describes the situation shown in the picture.
In case of ties the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Awards will be published in this paper as soon as possible after close of the contest. Checks will be sent to winners immediately afterwards.

RUSS ROBBERS LOOT FAMOUS MOSCOW CHAPEL

Jewels and Decorations Valued at Million Rubles in Gold Stolen.

MOSCOW, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—In the midst of the negotiation of requisitioning of church treasures, the famous Chapel of the Iberian Virgin, in Red Square, at the gates of the Kremlin, has been entered by robbers, who secured jewels valued at 5,000,000 gold rubles by stripping some of the most sacred icons in Russia of their diamonds and pearls and taking bejeweled necklaces, crowns and other valuables.

The robbers cut a hole in the roof of the chapel the night of April 7 and descended into the church by means of a rope ladder. The thieves took a copy of the most holy Iberian icon, brought to Moscow in 1648 from Mount Athos, and before which innumerable emperors paid homage when they passed into the Kremlin, was stripped of all its jewels and also partly defaced; the tiny chapel, which has always been the Mecca for the devout of orthodox faith, was strewn with broken lamps and other sacred furnishings, while the robbers apparently were unable to carry off with them.

When the news of the robbery gained circulation the chapel was thronged with crowds of the faithful, who attended a special service.

FARMERS TURN RETAILERS.

LINGFIELD, Eng., April 12.—East Surrey farmers have launched a chain of cooperative stores in which they sell their meats 25 per cent below competing butchers' prices. They are operating in five villages.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Multisid coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisid in a cup of water with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which removes dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Multisid coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisid.—Advertisement.

Big Sisters Separate From Welfare League

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Divorce complete and final from the Public Welfare League was voted this week at a special meeting of delegates called by Mrs. Sidney Haslett, president of the Big Sisters. Preliminary plans for reorganization along new lines with definite program of work were presented and will be carried back to the various organizations within the membership for ratification. Action will probably be called for on the regular meeting day of the Big Sisters on Friday, April 21, in the Young Women's Christian Association building. A constitution and by-laws will be offered by a committee of which Mrs. Ella F. Rowell is chairman, which was appointed this week.

The outline of reorganization calls for an enrollment of at least 1000 individual women pledged to be in truth "Big Sisters" to the boys and girls of Alameda county. Fees are to be kept at a minimum of $1 annually under the tentative plan. Clubs sending delegates will be called upon for contributions as they are able to afford. Employment of a paid executive secretary is contemplated as soon as finances warrant.

Besides the officers—president, three vice-presidents, a treasurer, and two secretaries, the creation of the following departments is suggested: Education, rental school, placement, follow up, delegates, membership, hospitality, general attendance, publicity, and telephone.

Friendliness and helpfulness are named the keynote of the Big Sister movement. Organized originally during the war, the group of women have been a nominal auxiliary of the Public Welfare League. The present movement is toward changing the policy and making it an independent, self-sustaining body.

Permanent organization of the Presidents' Club will be perfected tomorrow at 10:30 a. m., when executives, past and present, of all women's groups in Alameda county are summoned to a conference in the Y. W. C. A. building. A constitution and by-laws authorized prepared at the preliminary meeting last Saturday morning will be presented by the committee composed of Mrs. Blanche Eastman, Mrs. E. Carter, Mrs. Georgia L. Ormsby. The charter roll will remain open until the constitution is adopted. Mrs. H. J. Platts is temporary chairman and Mrs. Helena Gamble temporary secretary.

Matters of interest to nurses in the limitation of armament conference were discussed by Mrs. Helen Joy Greeley, addressing the Alameda County Nurses' Association this afternoon. Mrs. Greeley has come to California at the invitation of Stanford University for the opening of the Stanford Hospital for the women instrumental in obtaining military rank for nurses. Mrs. Greeley is legal advisor of the American Nurses' Association. In 1913 she stumped California for suffrage.

Miss Lydia Garber entertained entertained the nurses' body this afternoon.

Mrs. Charles J. Waterhouse has been re-elected president of the Home Club in recognition of the progressive and harmonious year now closing. Those who will direct the activities of the interesting East Oakland organization of men and women during the coming twelve months with Mrs. Waterhouse are: vice presidents, Mrs. A. M. Beebe, E. C. Lyon, Mrs. Lee S. Griswold; financial secretary, Mrs. F. N. Morcom; treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Breed; business secretary, Mrs. D. Frederic Quinn; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Mackay; members at large, C. U. Martin, Mrs. R. A. Glenn.

The Glenview Improvement Club and the Boy Scout Troop in the Glenview district have shown their appreciation of the Glenview Women's Club by making substantial contribution to the piano fund which is to discharge the debt on the new $1000 instrument. The men of the neighborhood through their organization this week made a gift of $100 from their treasury to assist the clubwomen in meeting their obligations. Quite as sincere thanks are going to the Boy Scouts who from their smaller treasury appropriated $5 to the piano fund. The big card party tomorrow will assist in further lessening the load of debt. A few weeks will see the entire obligation wiped out.

When Oakland War Mothers assemble in Memorial Hall, City Hall, tomorrow afternoon, E. Peterson, representing the Disabled Veterans of Los Angeles, will address them. He will outline the program which is being carried out in Southern California. Mrs. Charles E. Haines, president, will preside. An official visit will be paid the War Mothers by a delegation of the Colored War Mothers of Berkeley and Oakland. The guests will extend greetings.

No silk too sheer or fine to launder this gentle Lux way

NOWADAYS there is a silk for every use. There is crepe de Chine for the tailored suit, chiffon and georgette for the afternoon call. Even sports have claimed their own individual weave.

The sheerest chiffon blouse, the most delicate pastel color, is practical now. For what if they do soil quickly? They can be laundered so perfectly and so easily with Lux.

A strong soap or strong soap flake will destroy the luster and life of silk, and turn it yellow. Hard rubbing will fray and break the delicate threads.

FIGHT IS URGED ON WAGE AWARD

CHICAGO, April 12.—Samuel Gompers today joined Chicago labor leaders in the fight on the wage award made by Judge Landis in the building trades industry.

Branding the award as "unjust," the president of the American Federation of Labor counseled Chicago labor leaders to raise at least $2,000,000 to fight the "open shop," which he said was an outgrowth of the Landis decision.

Landis set wages of building trades workers with the provision that if unions refused to accept the decree employers would be justified in hiring non-union men.

The war fund suggested by Gompers was to match the sum raised by the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award.

LOST BABY IS HAPPY THOUGH YET UNCLAIMED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The 9-month-old baby boy whom some one forgot and left in the Ferry building Monday, was at the juvenile home today, still unclaimed.

Twice in the last 24 hours he has been identified—each time as a different child. Women, in each case, said they knew whose baby he was. But no parents have appeared at the "lost articles" window asking if any one has found their baby.

As to the boy, he doesn't seem to care. He has more milk than he can drink; enough rattles to start a jazz band, and nothing rings galore have been offered him.

"LUMINOUS OWL A JOKE." PULHAM, Eng., April 12.—The "luminous" owl reported seen at Fountains is a bird which was captured by an aviator here, its wings coated with a phosphorus preparation and then set free.

STEAMSHIP MEN TERMINATE RATE WAR ON COAST

PORTLAND, Ore., April 12.—Steamship operators on the Pacific coast terminated the rate war which has been in progress for the past month at a conference held here yesterday with W. D. Benson, traffic manager for Waterhouse & Co., of Seattle, presiding.

The operators agreed to immediate readjustment of the trans-Pacific tariffs, and to work together in harmony for the re-establishment of the trans-Pacific conference. These rules were drawn up a year ago but never adopted.

Starting today cargo is to be booked at $12.50 a thousand feet on the usual run of lumber; $11.50 a thousand for small sizes, and $17.50 on logs and lengths of more than fifty feet. Wheat and flour are quoted at $5 a ton.

It was believed by the operators attending that the shipping board will subscribe to the arrangement and that the Blue Tunnel line, which, with the Canadian Pacific, regarded as a starter of the rate cutting, would come into the conference although not represented by a delegate at yesterday's meeting.

Those attending the conference included W. P. Benson, traffic manager for Frank Waterhouse & Co., Seattle; W. K. Sempey, general freight agent for the China Mail Steamship Company Ltd., San Francisco; T. A. Lee, Pacific coast representative of Furness, Withy & Co., Ltd.; P. H. Glendinning, foreign agent for the Canadian Pacific railway, Vancouver; B. C., Captain Robert Dollar, head of the Robert Dollar company, San Francisco; John J. Gorman, Oriental manager for the Admiral line, Seattle; C. C. Keele, general agent for the Canadian government merchant marine, Vancouver; B. C. Ltd.; J. G. Stubbs, traffic manager for the Java-Pacific line, San Francisco; George Walker, Walker-Ross company, Seattle; Merrill Robinson, Seattle manager for the Robert Dollar company; Arthur Cahill, manager for Sudden & Christensen, San Francisco; W. T. Sexton, Columbia Pacific Shipping company, Portland; A. W. Kinney, traffic manager for A. M. Gillespie & Co., Seattle; T. Thierling, Portland manager, A. M. Gillespie; A. J. Chalmers of James Griffith & Co., representatives of Mitsui & Co. of Seattle. Lines not represented are the Blue Tunnel, Pacific Mail and Struthers & Barry of San Francisco.

The two princes boarded a special train which had been built for Wales' visit, and proceeded to Tokyo. The reception crowd cheered the Prince of Wales and the popular Japanese crown prince.

Thompson's Foes Victors at Polls

CHICAGO, April 12.—Mayor William Hale Thompson's candidates for the most important posts in Cook county primaries were defeated, incomplete returns today indicated.

The Republican faction opposed to Thompson's leadership, and led by Attorney General Edward Brundage and State Attorney Robert Crowe, were successful in nominating their candidates to many offices.

The regular Democratic slate, endorsed by William T. Brennan, was nominated.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Buck, daughter of Congressman William Mason, who died recently, appeared as the winner for the nomination to take her father's place in Washington.

Indications were that Congressman Ira C. Copley and Clifford Ireland were defeated for Republican nomination.

Industrial Gains Lauded by Expert

He stated yesterday that he found this section to be advancing progressively and that it has a brilliant industrial future, according to present indications.

British Battleship In Port for Week

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—H. M. S. Calcutta, British war vessel, will remain in this port for a week. At the end of that time the vessel will leave here for San Diego. It is announced that the vessel will be open for visitors from 1 o'clock until 5 o'clock.

Even Tigers Are Forced to Pay Tribute to Largest Animal of the World.

Here he is—Tusko, emperor of animal creation, largest elephant on earth, and the Royal Bengal tigers, looking on as reluctantly snarling tribute, for since Tusko arrived from the Himalayas the 1200 wild animals with the A. G. Barnes circus, coming to Oakland April 14, 15, 16, realize that he is the spotlight favorite with the crowds, the feature of big show features.

However, the educated tigers, lions, leopards, llamas, sea lions, seals, zebras, hippopotami, pumas, elephants, grizzlies, polar bears, baboons, chimpanzees, ostriches, kangaroos, yaks, emus, gnus, harte beestes and other jungle creatures claim that when it comes to acting they have it all over "the last of the mammoths."

But that's for the public to judge when the big show comes to town.

Tusko is a foot taller and a ton and a half heavier than was Jumbo. The highest elephant ever built, with deck lowered to give him clearance, transports the mightiest living creature. Tusko will be seen in the menagerie and in "Alice in Wonderland," the beautiful opening lyrical pageant spectacle, in which 1080 people, 550 horses and 1200 wild animals take part.

Battle Started By Poundmaster Finished by Posse

Judge C. A. Odell of Richmond is wearing his good right sentence arm in a sling today. Mrs. Helen Jorgenson of Pullman is in duress vile. The Jorgenson's dog is in the canine bastille, and peace reigns temporarily.

Mrs. Jorgenson's dog was accused of biting the young son of James McAllister, who appealed to the police.

Up spoke the poundmaster, phoned on his shield and authority, armed himself with a dog net and went forth to wage battle.

It took the combined efforts of the chief of police and a posse to finish what the poundmaster started. Even they did not think that Judge Odell would be the next victim.

"Officers treated me brutally," opined Mrs. Jorgenson in court this morning. "They attacked me, sir, like this."

She demonstrated.

"The lady has a mean grip," says Judge Odell as he totes his good right arm, bruised and squeezed beyond recognition, in a tastily arranged sling. The case will be on again tomorrow.

Japan received the royal visitor with tremendous pomp and enthusiasm. Yokohama was ablaze with flags and bunting.

EDITOR SCORES TEACHERS WHO BORE CLASSES

BERKELEY, April 12.—Professors who bore their classes with uninteresting lectures are as much to blame for disorder in classrooms as are the students who cause disturbances, says Editor C. G. Wakefield of the Daily Californian.

Answering the criticisms offered by professors concerning the impoliteness and disrespect of the collegians, Wakefield declares that the savants must shoulder their share of the blame.

"The remedy for disorder at the close of a lecture hour cannot be found in the locking of doors and the tongue-lashing of students by the teachers," he says. "If the professors would strive to interest the students better spirit would be manifested on both sides."

MASKED MEN PAY NIGHT VISIT TO KERN RESIDENTS

Fellows Man Is Taken From Home and Lured; Band Routed by Gun.

BAKERSFIELD, April 12.—White-robed and hooded men in seven automobiles Monday night took C. Haight, resident of Fellows, out of the West Side of field's town and delivered a lecture to him, and later called at the home of Gus Schoenfeldt, druggist, who defied the visitors with a shotgun, whereupon they departed, according to a dispatch received in Bakersfield.

The hooded men represented themselves as Ku Klux Klan members. They warned Haight to seek employment, according to a report to the sheriff's office by Marshal John Chavul of Fellows.

The visitors did not make their mission known to Schoenfeldt. Haight was taken out by the men about 10 o'clock, and the purported "Klanmen" called on Schoenfeldt about 10:30. Haight was not subjected to physical mistreatment, it was said.

Entering a protest against a warning received by a friend and which he believes to be from the Ku Klux Klan, E. D. Hoover of Maricopa has addressed an open letter to members of Taft Klan Number Three, in which he agreed to meet any representative of that body at any time and place.

Hoover states in his letter that his friend, who is said to have received the warning, has been judged. The letter was published in the Midway Drifter at Taft yesterday.

You can obtain the Roseen Beautifier in either white or flesh color. Large jars, $1; medium, 50c. Sold by the Owl Drug Co. and leading department and drug stores. The name dealers have Roseen Face Powder and Roseen Rouge—all shades.—Advertisement.

Girls! Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull and sallow face into a radiant one, it also makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

It is absolutely harmless and will neither produce nor stimulate the growth of hair. Within twenty-four hours this wonderful Cream will work a marvelous transformation.

Get a small quantity today at any good drug or beauty goods counter. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it. In addition, the manufacturers authorize every druggist to return the purchase money unless the first application shows noticeable improvement, so be sure to try it at our expense. Should you have any difficulty in obtaining this wonderful Cream locally, we will send a full sized package of both Cream and Soap for $1.00. In any case don't hesitate to send the (alloy or stamp) for generous trial package and convince yourself of their merits. Howard Bros. Company, 24 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Calif. During the stations of the cross seven short sermons will be preached on "The Characters of the Passion" by the clergy of St. Mary's. The Good Friday night services will be at 8 o'clock and will be of special solemnity in character. Between the stations excerpts from Rossini's "Stabat Mater" will be sung by the Wilkie Conservatory Choir under the direction of Mrs. Florence Gregory. A sermon on the passion will be preached by Rev. Thomas Cullen of Providence, R. I. The services will conclude with the adoration of the cross by the members of the congregation. On Saturday the ceremonies of the blessing of holy water and Pascal candle will commence at 9 o'clock and the Mass of Alleluia at 10. With this service the Lenten season practically ends.

Tastes differ— as the old lady said

If all men had similar tastes in clothing some of the smaller houses in San Francisco could cater to your needs as well as we.

And there would be no necessity for this establishment maintaining an entire building of four floors exclusively for men's and young men's clothing.

But tastes do differ. That is one reason why we carry the largest stock of men's clothing West of Chicago, and the greatest assortment of styles and patterns. Another reason is that it enables us to properly fit men of any size or build, and allow them a wide range of patterns to select from.

And still another reason is that quantity buying permits us to sell high-grade clothes at prices that must appeal to you.

TALK OAKLAND WEEK' ACCORDED HEARTY SUPPORT

Enthusiastic Replies, Given With Pledge Cards, Swamp Chamber of Commerce.

Hundreds of enthusiastic pledge cards are being received daily at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce "Talk Oakland Week" headquarters.

"The most beautiful city in all California" is the tribute that Rev. Harold Gove, pastor of the Olivet Congregational church, pays Oakland in a note attached to his "Talk Oakland Week" pledge. "Good Stuff" is the comment of J. W. Musselman.

Frank Darien, who came to Oakland under protest a number of years ago, and who has since had good-bye to New York that he might make this city his permanent home believes the whole world would try to move here if they only knew.

Darien writes: "I have been on the stage since the year William Jennings Bryan first ran for president and since that time have been in every State in the Union. I have played most of the large cities many times and know what they have to offer. In 1912 I came out to San Francisco to play the Alcazar theater. The management was not quite ready for my opening and I found me to Harry Bishop for the Liberty theater, Oakland. I did not want to come. I had spent 14 years of my life in New York, and my idea of Oakland was a New Yorker's idea of Hoboken, so I came to Oakland under protest.

"Now Oakland is my home, and I am one of her real boosters. Climatically Oakland is the best on the coast, and if the people of Maine to Montana, frozen from cold winters, and those from Kansas to Oklahoma, weary from dodging cyclones, and those sweltering with heat from Georgia to Texas, if they but knew what Oakland has to offer them, Oakland soon would be the biggest and the best city of the coast and that is what it should be."

INTENTION ON TALK. LEEDS, Eng., April 12.—Israel Goldstone has used to enjoy Leah Smith "to perpetual silence from boasting that she is his wife. The woman claims they were married.

Here's Pledge of Loyalty and Support for City's Residents

KNOWING Oakland for her intrinsic worth and loving her for what she has been to me, I pledge myself that henceforth I will say nothing of detriment to her and that I will not be silent when she is assailed. I pledge her my fealty in thought, in deed and in word. I will tell others about that which she has done well and I will aid my fellow citizens in making her all that she should be. I will suffer none to say that other cities are her superior. I believe Oakland is the peerless one and I shall seek to make her so.

There's a Reason for Oakland's Growth

By H. A. LAFLER

When asked why you think Oakland is the greatest manufacturing center on the Pacific coast, the answer is: "The reason is that, within the last four or five years, there have been established Eastbay plants or purchased industrial sites preliminary thereto, whereas only one nationally known manufacturing corporation has bought elsewhere on the Pacific coast, namely, Goodyear, at Los Angeles. Those fifteen are: Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., General Electric Co., Sherwin-Williams Paint, Proctor & Gamble (toilet soap), Durant Motors, Hulse Co. (37 varieties), Palmolive Soap, Certain-teed Roofing, General Electric (two), Sherwin-Williams & Libby, Peet Bros. Soap, Continental Can, National Lead, Virden Packing (two plants), Shredded Wheat.

Such companies do not select a site without careful and thorough investigation, and the following are some of the reasons for their choice in Oakland: Oakland, Center of Population. An east-and-west line drawn through Alameda county divides the population of the three Pacific coast states into two equal parts.

Rapid Growth of Industrial Population. In the period of 1914-19 Oakland's industrial population increased 175.3 per cent over the previous period of 1909-1914; Chicago increased 22.7 per cent; Memphis, 45.6 per cent; St. Paul, 17.8 per cent.

Cheap and Plentiful Power. Oakland and her sister cities on San Francisco bay have the cheapest hydro-electric power of any

GREAT BRITAIN READY TO BEGIN DEBT REFUNDING

Other Debtor Nations Will Not Cause Any Delay in Negotiations.

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, April 12.—Great Britain has informed the state department that she is ready to begin immediate negotiations looking toward the refunding of the $11,000,000,000 allied debt of the United States, it was learned officially here today.

The other debtor nations will not cause any delay in the negotiations. Assurances to this effect have already been received from France, Belgium and Italy, it was said.

Great Britain's commission is expected to arrive here within a month, closely followed by representatives of the other nations.

NOTICE GIVEN FRANCE. Indications are that the United States and Great Britain—the two big credit nations—will stand together in the negotiations against any move of France or any other power toward cancellation of the debts. Both governments, however, will grant liberal terms for payment. Great Britain already has served notice on France that she expects payment of all the French British obligations. Much of the $4,000,000,000 loaned by the United States to Britain was re-loaned to other countries.

How long the refunding negotiations will require members of the debt commission are unable to estimate, but three or four months may pass before all matters are settled. Great Britain already has promised to resume her interest payments on October 1.

IN FORM OF BONDS. The obligations, now in the form of U. S. notes, probably will be put in the form of definite bonds. The interest, which has been running since the loans were made, more than three years ago, now amounts to more than $1,500,000,000. This will be funded.

A trip to Europe late this summer to gain information as to economic conditions is being considered by the congressional members of the American commission. Smoot and Burton, secretary Hoover may join them on this trip.

Burton said today that his membership in the commission did not of itself exclude him from the Ohio senatorial race, adding he had not reached a definite decision on the matter.

Benefit Whist Party Tickets Quickly Taken

MRS. MARIA M. DORFFEL, who is helping arrange St. Joseph's Home benefit.

St. Joseph's Home Benefit Gives Promise of Great Success.

Sale of tickets to the whist party to be held Friday evening, April 21, in the Oakland Municipal Auditorium arena for the benefit of two score or more deaf and dumb school students at St. Joseph's Home, has already exceeded 3500, according to announcement from the general committee, headed by John I. Toland and M. M. Roach, general chairman.

The magnitude of the affair can be seen from the fact that arrangements are being made for 500 tables, which will exceed by 200 the number used by the record-breaking party in New York eight years ago. Movements of the players from table to table and the scores will be announced by an electric flash-board on the stage in the auditorium arena. Motion pictures of the affair will also be taken.

To handle the play and to prevent any delay in scoring, more than 125 girls will be engaged as score girls. Already the score girls are rehearsing their duties under the direction of the women who five years ago assisted in scoring for the whist party held then.

In addition to Toland and Roach, there are included in the general committee the following: Miss Blanche Steele, secretary; George V. Nolan, tables and chairs; T. P. Hogan, cards; D. J. Mullins, publicity; Miss E. McDuffie, Steele, tickets; Mrs. A. H. Gregory, prizes, and the Rev. Father J. H. MacCormiskey, adviser.

MAN BATTERS WOMAN ON HEAD AND KILLS SELF

Charles Anderson, Mechanic, Puts Bullet in Heart as Police Seek to Enter.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—While police were hammering at the door to obtain entry, Charles Anderson, an automobile mechanic, fired three shots into his heart after battering Mrs. Julia Mancini on the head with a lead pipe. The woman is in the hospital today with a badly fractured skull, and cannot live, according to physicians.

The attack took place at the Mancini home, 378 Capitol avenue. When the police entered they found Mrs. Mancini on the floor unconscious, and Anderson's dead body a few feet away. Mancini, who is the proprietor of a poolroom at 225 Plymouth street, said he believed Anderson became deranged when he started to talk to his wife about the purchase of a bungalow.

Human Exhibits Made to Combat Wage Cut Demand

CHICAGO, April 12 (By Associated Press).—Human exhibits to prove that maintenance of way railroad employees cannot live properly on their present pay today were brought before the United States Railroad Labor Board hearing into the roads' demands for wage cuts, when Frank P. Walsh, union attorney, called to the witness stand a number of employees who told the board their present earnings kept them underfed, unclothed and lacking some of the necessities of life.

Mrs. Joseph Saboni, wife of a Milwaukee, Wis., section hand, was the first witness called by Walsh. She told the board that she had to borrow the old coat she wore to make the trip here. At the end of her story, she turned to the board members and said:

"I know that you won't cut my husband's pay when you know we can't live on what he's getting now."

Mrs. Saboni said her husband's earnings last month were $70. Her monthly expenses for bare necessities were given as $40 for groceries, $20 for meat, $15 for rent and $30 for milk. Her 10-year-old boy was told by a school nurse that he had consumption and she took him out of school, but the doctor said he was merely undernourished, she testified.

"We fed him mostly on tea, bread and syrup," she said.

National Rally of Salesmen Is Sought

The monthly meeting of the Oakland Assembly of the National Association of Specialty Salesmen will be held at the Merchants' Exchange Friday night.

Most important is the possibility of securing the 1923 national convention for Oakland. The matter has already been submitted to Louis Aber, convention chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, and a definite plan will be worked out toward bringing the meeting here next year. This would mean the entertaining of about 1000 delegates in Oakland for five days.

The convention this year will be held at Cedar Point, O., July 5 to 10.

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers, Watch Your Daughters' Health Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established, she needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that a girl is then passing through is so critical, and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health, that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period. Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let them overstudy. If they complain of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, they need a mother's thoughtful care and sympathy.

Tear Gas Changes Bandits' Jeers to Cries for Mercy

DETROIT, Mich., April 12. Police and detectives armed with shotguns, brought a five-hour siege of an apartment to an end today when they pumped tear gas through the keyhole of the door, forcing five suffocating men and two women, all heavily armed, to beg for mercy and lay down their weapons.

Those under arrest are: Earl Van Sickle, 25, and his wife Sarah, 22, and Ethel Goodfriend, Stanley Bishop, 23, Edgar Wallace, Stanley Goldberg and Sam Gidizeone.

A tip was received at police headquarters late last night that two of the suspects wanted in connection with a robbery were in the apartment.

Inspector William Good and a squad of police hastened to the place and attempted to gain admittance. They were warned to "keep out or take the consequences." A call was sent into headquarters for tear gas. The alleged bandits were warned the gas would be used. The warning was received with jeers, changing to cries for mercy when the powerful suffocant was poured through the keyhole.

Men and women piled their guns on a table in the room and, throwing open the door, stood with uplifted hands while the officers handcuffed them.

WIDOW SINKING AS SHE SPURNS MEDICAL HELP

Balks All Efforts to Combat
Poison Taken After Her Husband Dies.

SAN RAFAEL, April 12.—Defying medical science and the good wishes of her friends, Mrs. Franz Frey of San Rafael seemed today to be achieving her purpose in joining her husband in death, according to the physicians.

She was weaker last night and today than at any time since she swallowed the deadly poison at the deathbed of her husband, in an effort to cross the Styx with him.

"Mrs. Frey is resisting all efforts to save her," said Dr. J. H. Kruser today. "If she could be persuaded to put up a fight for her life her chances for recovery would be about even."

"It's no use," Mrs. Frey told the physician, "I made a solemn promise to go with him. I do not want to be saved. I have nothing to live for without my husband. Why should anyone else be concerned since it is my wish? My place is beside Franz in death as in life."

Mrs. Frey is now persistently refusing food. She drinks a little coffee, but nothing else. Dr. Kruser said today that he believes this refusal of food is due rather to the effects of the poison than to a deliberate attempt to weaken herself.

The Freys were married for 39 years. The husband died after a brief illness last week. Mrs. Frey is 52 years of age.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

World-wide Dope Ring Controlled in London

By CHAS. McCANN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Copyright, 1922, by United Press
CHAPTER I.

LONDON, April 12 (United Press)—Five men compose the inside circle of the international dope ring which has headquarters in London.

The ring employs a vast army of crooks, ex-convicts and gunmen for the distribution of the drugs.

A large part of the drugs are brought from Germany. The syndicate which rules from London consists of:

A wealthy bookmaker and money-lender, a ship owner, the proprietor of a London restaurant, an Assyrian importer, another Near Eastern alien.

The ring controls shops and stores in London where the drugs are stored and from which they are shipped to all parts of Great Britain, the continent and in fact, to all parts of the world.

London's recent murder wave is blamed by Scotland Yard on the widespread use of cocaine, morphine and other dope.

The death of Freda Kempton, dancing instructor, aroused the press, public and police to the operations of London's dope ring.

Freda, a young, pretty, light-hearted, thousands like her have gone and are going out like burned-out electric bulbs that have helped to light up London after dark. But few, like her, have sent up an explosion that has lit up the underworld of the city.

Freda, like Billie Carleton, died of an overdose of a drug, probably the same cocaine, with perhaps a dash of cyanide.

Freda was a dancing instructor. For over two years she had been one of the thousands who begin their day when the lights blaze up in the city. She started young, innocent, pleasure-seeking, care-free, happy; and ended, at twenty-one, still young and pleasure-seeking.

Some weeks ago she was a witness at the inquest on Mrs. Audrey Knowles-Harrison, who was found dead with her head in a gas oven. It was said Freda "had never been the same since."

One of Freda's friends saw her walking home, laughing, in evening dress, oblivious to a driving rain, at 5 o'clock in the morning, too full of life to take a cab. She had been the usual round-four night club.

That night, in her flat at Westbourne-grove, Freda died in her landlady's arms. A drinking glass in her bedroom contained traces of poison. In a glove, thrown carelessly on a table, were concealed three bottles of drugs.

No sooner had the coroner's inquest opened than light began to shine on the outside as well as the inside, of the mazes of streets in which the night-life centers.

It developed Freda's story was that of many butterflies—disillusionment and its result—and that the telling of it would stir up the ordinary Londoner who goes to bed at night, as he has not been stirred

FLAPPERS HELD TO BLAME FOR MORALS' SLUMP

St. Paul's Episcopal Mission
Leader Makes Caustic
Comment on Conditions.

Describing the present as an age of money madness with a gross disrespect of laws, both moral and civil, E. C. Mercer, one of the speakers conducting the mission at the St. Paul's Episcopal church, last night, flayed the "slump" as he termed the present condition of the country. This "slump," he said, was brought about principally by the feminine flapper and her masculine counterpart.

BLAME FOR SLUMP.

Among the things scored by Mercer as contributing to the present condition were: money madness; indifference for law where the law interfered with individual wishes; lack of home training for the young; preference of beauty and popularity to essential goodness by the girls of today; lack of responsibility by the youth of the country; dangerous laxity of relations between boys and girls; looseness of marriage laws; divorce as a national habit; Sunday desecration; and juvenile crime.

Mercer also scored the person who has the ability to see the flaws in others but think that they themselves are above reproach. This, he said, was a common fault among people hearing sermons—always ready to apply them to others but seeing no connection between them and their own shortcomings.

PREACHERS BLAMED.

"Preachers are afraid to speak the truth today, because they are afraid of rich parishioners. They do not call sin by its own name; they call it 'personal idiosyncrasy,'" said Mercer in discussing some of the causes of the present condition.

Mercer, in company with H. H. Hadley of New York, is conducting a mission at the St. Paul's church this week.

Hadley spoke at the same meeting last night on the "Drifting Where?" Mercer will speak again this evening, using as his subject, "What Christ Will Do for the Tempted and Defeated."

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

"Kindly give me an idea of the duties of the U. S. Shipping Commissioner, and inform me if it would be his duty to collect the back pay for the crew of a vessel that was sold by the order of the U. S. district court. Is there anyone to whom we could apply?"

No, it would not be the duty of the U. S. Shipping Commissioner to collect the back pay for the crew of a vessel that was sold by the order of the U. S. district court. That duty would devolve upon the clerk of the U. S. district court who had the case in charge. If it was the U. S. district in San Francisco we refer you to the clerk of that district, at Seventh and Mission streets, San Francisco.

"How do you clean the spot from a stone fireplace so as to renew its looks?"

If it is not glazed tile, rubbing long and well with coarse sandpaper or sand will be the most effective.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The bureau is open every day, except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. If answers are desired by mail, stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

MISS KETURIE'S GARTER.

"Clang! Clang! Clang!" How cross the gripman was, and how he made his bell tell the world about it.

"Honk! Honk! Honk!" The motor cars and their drivers were furious, too.

The big limousine in front was rather calm about it, but the fretful little fellow in the cheap car next in line fairly foamed to bits off. And as for an impudent little racer — he and his driver had half a mind to put the traffic officer and take a chance, anyhow.

The traffic officer was laughing. Laughing so hard that he couldn't speak, so he just pointed. I followed with my eyes the direction of his finger, and there, in the middle of the crossing of the busiest, most dangerous street in town, stood Miss Keturie — a regular little roly poly of a creature was Miss Keturie!

Not a day over three — chubby and round, and dimpled and rosy, and every blue-eyed to that degree that you couldn't see her without wanting to grab her, and Miss Keturie was blocking the traffic.

AND JANE ANNE —

Her mother tried to pull her ahead, but not she.

She wouldn't budge. She just stood pointing with her pudgy finger at — what do you suppose?

At a ridiculous, little blue silk garter that had slipped down from her blue silk stocking, and not one inch would she move until that garter was up out of public sight and comfortable and cozy in the right place. Mother had to put down her bundles in the middle of the street and get down and fasten that garter — or we'd all be there waiting for the traffic signal — yet.

What do you suppose that Miss Keturie will be when she grows up?

Whatever she is, and wherever she is, she'll have what she wants when she wants it. And if she's half as entrancing as she is now, she is now, everyone will be glad to give it to her.

What would you have done if you'd been Miss Keturie's mother?

Oh, of course you would never have a Miss Keturie for a child — not for a minute! You would mind Mary Ellen or Jane Anne — her garter would never come down in the first place, and if it did, it wouldn't be blue silk, a frail, fragile, foolish thing like that. And anyhow, Mary Ellen would mind her mother's garter or no garter. Why, she would stop Gabriel's trumpet to listen to you, telling her not to do this and when to do that. She's a great comfort, Mary Ellen — isn't she?

And Jane Anne — why Jane Anne — she would have kicked the garter off into the gutter and slipped along and trusted to luck to keep her stocking up. Jane Anne is a diplomat — and she knew it before she was out of her cradle. Jane Anne would probably have blue garters and the things that go with them, but somebody else will pay for them, if you please — and if she happens to lose them, she'll never let anyone know about it — be sure of that.

NOT SHE!

"Keturie — oh, well, she's different — absolutely different! Those blue stockings and the garters that went with them are the pride of her life and the joy of her existence. She probably dreams about them, then, nights. And whenever she can't have any more candy or somebody doesn't come over to play with her, she thinks to herself:

"Oh, well, I've got the blue stockings and garters, anyhow."

And do you think she was going to let any old traffic officer make her run the risk of losing one of the lode-stars of her existence? Not she!

I am for Keturie, myself. I know I ought not to be. But remember, I am. The Keturies of this world are always interesting, anyhow.

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

The Invention of Weaving

This is part of a series of narratives about the life of mankind that will continue throughout the year.

WIVES IN STONE AGE times had plenty to do. Much of the time, they spent cooking meat over the family bonfire. At other times they sewed skins together to make clothes, which was not an easy job.

Of course they also had to take care of their babies, and see that the children behaved properly. (One way that children "behaved" then was by keeping out of the way of wild beasts.) Later on a new occupation was found for women. This occupation was weaving. The latter part of the Stone Age is probably the time people learned to weave. Baskets and other things of straw and wood made then have, of course, rotted away.

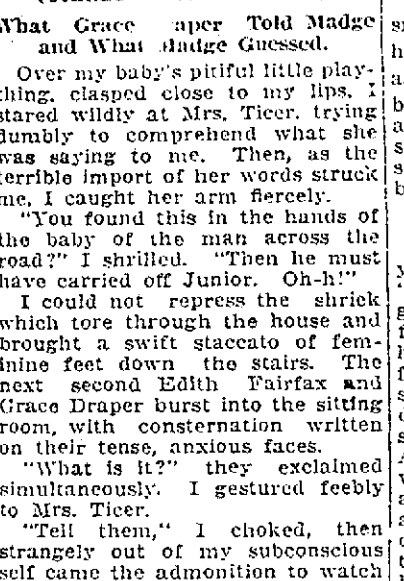

Weaving means to entwine or lace together. In those days people had no idea of making cloth. They did not weave with thread. The tender inner bark of trees was what they used, and with this they made baskets.

Let us suppose it was a woman who first learned to weave. She was tired of carrying small bits of kindling wood into the camp whenever the fire got low. Such wood she had to carry in her arms, and she was displeased by the number of trips which had to be made.

When this happened, the main things about making had been learned. All that was left was for people to find ways to make baskets better and better. As the centuries passed, such improvements were discovered.

Tomorrow you will read about the fierce mammoth.

Holding Husband

What Grace after Told Madge and What Madge Guessed.

Over my baby's pitiful little playing, clapped those my lips, I staid wildly at Mrs. Ticer, trying dumbly to comprehend what she was saying to me. Then, as the terrible import of her words struck me, I caught her arm fiercely.

"You found this in the hands of the baby of the man across the road?" I shrieked. "Then he must have carried off Junior. Oh-h!"

I could not repress the shriek which tore through the house and brought a swift staccato of feet clattering down the stairs. The next second Edith Fairfax and Grace Draper burst into the sitting room, with consternation written on their tense, anxious faces.

"What is it?" they exclaimed simultaneously. I gestured feebly to Mrs. Ticer.

"Tell them," I choked, then, strangely out of my subconscious self came the admonition to watch Grace Draper's face, and for a fleeting instant, as Mrs. Ticer repeated her statement, I fancied I saw a look of panic leap into her eyes. But the next instant she had spoken calmly, with a note of actual derision in her voice.

"You're nonsense, Junior, lost that two days before we were involved in it. For only too distinctly I remembered that when my little lad, after bringing me his drawing, had started back to the corner studio for his 'Danzel's picture' above the pocket of his romper, the familiar outlines of his beloved celluloid 'bumble fish'."

"No matter what developments, stick outwardly to your theory that the child wandered away and is lost."

As clearly as if Hugh Grantland had spoken the words close by, this fragment of the note he had sent me sounded in my ears. I saw clearly that a premature explosion of anger and nervousness was summing me might spoil all his plans for finding out the truth, so I nerved myself to play the part of unsuspecting acquiescence in the accepted theory of Junior's disappearance until Hugh Grantland gave me permission to do otherwise.

"You — you are sure?" I stammered, as if pleading for her assurance.

"Of course," she returned. "But, Madge, you're fearfully upset. Don't you think you'd better lie down?"

"Just come right in my room, Mrs. Graham," Mrs. Ticer promptly interposed, "and I'll make you a cup of tea."

I followed her passively, furtively watching Grace Draper and Edith Fairfax as I did so. There was a knock in the door I shut behind me, and I unblushingly looked through it as soon as I closed the door.

I saw Edith Fairfax shrug her shoulders, touch her forehead significantly, and heard her say contentedly:

"Don't mind her, Grace. Come back upstairs and lie down, and I'll run your head, and see how much like that hasn't done it any good, you know."

The utter heartlessness of her words as applied to me brought no resentment to my mind, only a wild, fantastic surge. I knew I was a scribe, that Edith Fairfax was also involved in this horrible tangle of which I was beginning to clutch the most slender thread? Mrs. Ticer stopped all speculation by seizing my wrist and drawing me forward.

"Those girls know something, Mrs. Graham," she whispered. "At least, the Draper one does. I can't tell you how I know, but I just do. Somehow. Oh, I'd like to tell her eyes out, but I haven't time even to say about it now. Don't you see that we've got to get this man across the road put away before he runs off? He isn't home just now, but when I snatched that little celluloid mad turtle from that fellow in an old child's toybox, I was frightened, and then ran to his mother. And she's hitching up the horse this minute so as to get word to him to run, I'll bet a cookie. Don't you see, if he's arrested, maybe he'll tell."

"He won't get away," I said grimly, galvanized into action. "But please remember not even to hint to a living being that we want to arrest him until I give you permission. And pretend to those women in disguise that you believe Mrs. Draper's assertion about the toy."

"Leave it to me," she replied fervently, and I dashed out of doors and jumped into my car beside Tom Chester — who had waited there — turning the car into the road and out of sight of Grace Draper's upper windows before I spoke.

Then rapidly I narrated Mrs. Ticer's discovery and Grace Draper's falsehood.

"I've got out of the car as I finished speaking."

"Please wait here," he said. "And if the woman comes past pretend to be fixing your car, and pay no attention to her. I'll be back in a few minutes. And let me tell you, I think at last we're on the right trail."

Tom Chester vaulted the old rail fence beside which I had drawn my car and disappeared in the tangle of bushes that lay behind it. Obediently I waited patiently, and was soon rewarded by seeing drive past me the bent figure of the woman across the road whom I had taken to the hospital after a beating — an ex-husband's hands. I looked at her from beneath my lowered eyelids, a trick of mine, cultivated in my teaching days, and caught a furtive glance from her which held in it fear, knowledge and something as akin to remorse and pity as the poor clog was capable of feeling.

Geraldine's SHOULDER

Listen, World!

"HOW VULGAR!"

HAVE YOU AN ENCLOSED-PLUMBING MIND?

MRS. STEPHEN RODGER Williams' mind reminds me of the plumbing in the middle of the nineteenth century. I wasn't on earth during that purr and priss period, but I saw the remains of the plumbing when I came along. Remember it? Everything cased in and locked up and covered over an nailed down, as though it were embalmed in readiness for the Judgment Day.

Did any really respectable kitchen sink bare its innards to the vulgar gaze of the butcher and baker? I'll say it didn't! It was encased in a regular hoop skirt of doors and shutters and boxes. Every modest piping had a cover all its own. It was wonderful and imposing, but it was also dirty. The ultimate result was cockroaches, millions of them. That's why we did away with enclosed plumbing.

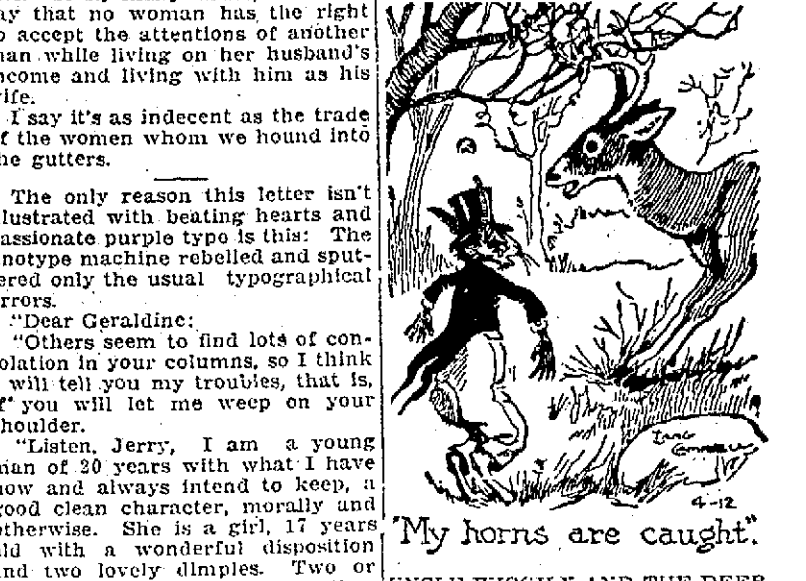

Yes, Mrs. Stephen Rodger Williams reminds me of that. If there is anything her Eminently Respectable Mind cannot bear it is a draft of air or a burst of light. Any exposure of the vital construction of Human Conduct, her own or the other chap's, is too awful for words. Let things be as they may be, but for goodness sake, don't tell about them! Cover them up with nicely varnished manners and morals. Wall them in tight with laws. Coop 'em up, lock 'em fast and don't peek.

Never, never, NEVER discuss Marriage, Birth, Love (save in its most fire-proof form), Divorce, Deny the existence of Sex. Make it illegal to smoke, wear short skirts, rolled socks or hick-up pants. Reverse all arguments concerning socialism, unions, faith cures, living wages and what the wages of sin really are. Vote to put a statue of Volstead over the bubble fountain at Westminster. Give a child, believe in God as long as he belongs to your church. And never buy ready-made suits for the collar invariably bulge, my dear.

Such is Mrs. Stephen Rodger Williams' mind, enclosed-plumbing mind. Such is the collective mind of a lot of Antedeluvian Artichokes who want to run this country. And as I before said, the ultimate result of an arrangement like that is — Cockroaches.

Uncle Wiggly's My horns are caught.

Uncle Wiggly was hopping through the woods one day, looking here and there beneath the bushes for an adventure. When, all at once, he heard a loud noise, as if a strong wind might be blowing through the trees, rushing the branches to and fro.

"Dear me!" whispered the bunny rabbit gentleman to himself. "This noise is like the Shanty Scallery. Alligators were lashing about with their big flail of a tail, trying to knock the trees down. I must be very careful!"

"But a moment later Uncle Wiggly heard a sad voice calling: 'Help! Help! Will some one please help me to get loose?'

"That doesn't sound like the Alligator," thought the bunny. "It sounds like the Virginia or white-tailed deer, and now I almost wish I were a rabbit, like you."

"Why?" asked Uncle Wiggly. "You are so much larger and stronger than I, and so much more beautiful. I can't see why you would want to be a rabbit. Such wonderful horns as you have, too!"

"Dear me," said the voice, "I'm in a terrible fix. My horns are caught in a tangle of wild grape vines. I've been trying to get them out for the last hour, but I can't get loose."

"Oh, then it was you who made that sound like a tree rustling through the trees?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"It was," said the deer. "I kicked down with my heels, but I can't get loose and I don't know what to do. That's why I called for help."

"Oh, I'll help you," offered Uncle Wiggly, and with his sharp teeth he soon gnawed through the tangle of grape vines that had caught the deer's horns. "You have done me a great favor, and if I can do one for you, it will make me very happy."

Uncle Wiggly winked his pink nose and said not to bother about that, as one must do favors for the favor in return. Then the bunny hopped his way and the deer ran his way, and soon something else happened.

The Wozzie Wolf and the Fuzzy Fox started out together that day to find some cure for their usual, they first looked for Uncle Wiggly.

"Yes," agreed the Wolf. "The only trouble is, Uncle Wiggly plays so many tricks on us that we never have we really nibbled his ears. We catch him often enough, but he gets away."

"Well, get him this time all right," said the cunning Fox. "You take the path to the left, through the woods, and I'll take the path to the right. Whoever first finds Uncle Wiggly will have his handkerchief. Then the other will run up and, then together, we'll have him."

"Good!" cried the Wolf.

"Good!" whispered the white-tailed deer who, hidden behind the bushes, heard all that was said. "This is my chance to do Uncle Wiggly a favor," thought the deer.

He ran a little way into the woods, where he had a little hole in the path to the left. Turning around, with his back to the path, the deer flipped his white tail up and down in the air. The Wolf saw it and said:

"Ah, my friend the Fox is waving his handkerchief. I'll run and help him nibble his ears." The Wolf started to run toward where he had seen the white thing waving. The deer cut across to the path on the right, and seeing the Fox, once more the deer waved his white tail.

"Ah, my friend the Wolf is waving his white handkerchief. He has caught Uncle Wiggly! I'll go and help him nibble his ears," barked the Fox, and away he ran toward where he had seen the white thing waving.

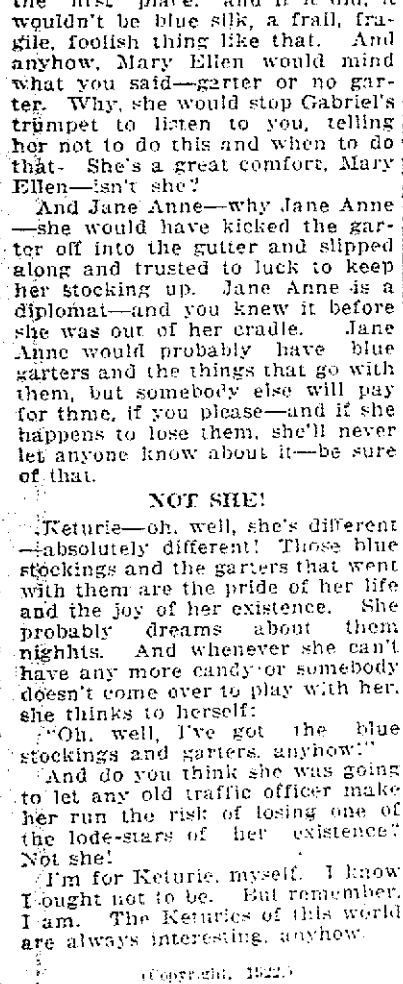

But both times it was the deer's tail, and not the handkerchiefs of the Wolf and Fox. Those two had chaps, instead of running toward one another, ran away, one from the other, and soon they were miles apart, and lost in the deep, dark forest.

Uncle Wiggly hopped safely on, but after a while he said: "Dear me, I'm not having any adventures at all today. That is except the one with the deer. I wonder if the handkerchief doesn't go out in an April shower? To try to catch some gum drops for the tooth-brush to tickle. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly in the fog."

"I can tell you!" laughed the deer, and then he told about waving his white tail. "Dear me, I'm not having any adventures at all today. That is except the one with the deer. I wonder if the handkerchief doesn't go out in an April shower? To try to catch some gum drops for the tooth-brush to tickle. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly in the fog."

Odd and Interesting Facts

Among the odd birds of Australia are the black swan, the lyre-bird, the honey-sucker and the brush turkey. There are several mammals whose young are produced from eggs like those of a bird, and then nursed by the mother to maturity. Among these animals are the water-mole or echidna and the porcupine anteater.

SEXUAL ENLIGHTENMENT OF CHILDREN.

SHOULD children be told the truth about sex, and if so at what age? And also who should enlighten them as to facts which puritans and bigots have surrounded with a most unwholesome mystery.

After observing hundreds of cases in which a mental disturbance has been partly brought on by fears due to ignorance of certain sexual facts, psychoanalysts cannot help considering as criminals all parents who try to keep their children's minds "pure."

What does purity mean in such cases? It means that you are entrusting the sexual enlightenment of your children to a little school mate, to some vicious fellow who has overheard a few nasty remarks, or who has carried on some obscene conversation with a perverse adult and then proceeds to impart his "knowledge" to every child in the school.

If you can keep your children (All Rights Reserved. Reproduction Prohibited.)

Each female salmon yields approximately 3500 eggs each year.

The swallow's mouth, in proportion to its size, is larger than that of any other bird.

The dog spider of Madagascar is the largest spider in existence. It weighs about a pound, and each of its eight legs is as thick as an ordinary lead pencil.

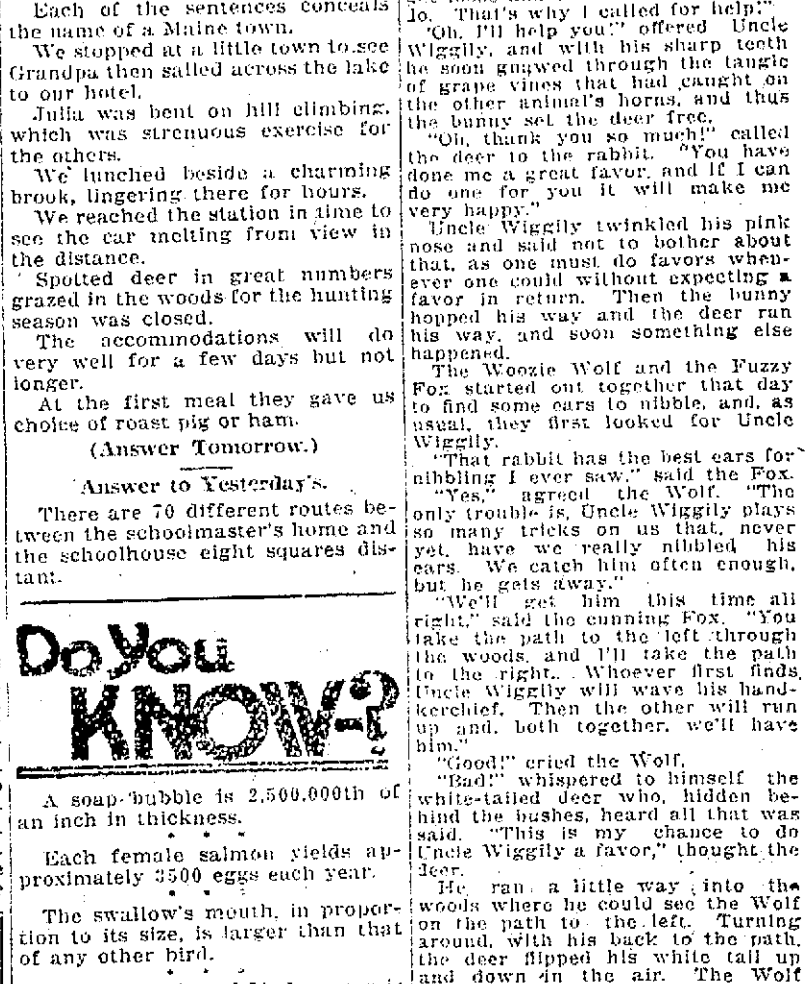

At home under your constant supervision until the day of their marriage, they probably will grow up with "pure" minds. Send them to school and the contamination of their minds will begin at once. I say contamination, although I sneered at the word purity, because truth is never impure and lies always are.

What your child will learn in school from filthy playmate is the romance of sex, presenting the most tremendous psychological facts as something amusing, ridiculous, indecent, a good subject for jokes of the snuffy variety and without infinitely fascinating.

That filthy romance will occupy your child's imagination in all his idle hours, it will obsess him and compel him to seek more and more information on such a burning subject. It will make him an easy prey to perverse children or conceited adults who will exploit his curiosity and take advantage of his purity. Unless your child gets into serious trouble, he shall keep his "knowledge" of sexual facts to himself and you may never know how far certain things have gone until it is too late to undo the harm. Do you call this purity?

OPERA SEASON IN S. F. SHOWS HEAVY DEFICIT

Illness of Mary Garden Will Cost Backers a Large Assessment.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—A deficit running into thousands of dollars was sustained by the Chicago Grand Opera Company during its recent appearance, covering the period of two weeks, in San Francisco, according to a statement by Selby C. Oppenheimer, local impresario.

This deficit will have to be made good by the one hundred guarantors, all leading bankers, business men and music enthusiasts of San Francisco. Oppenheimer believes the individual assessment will be a heavy one. Oppenheimer said that the exact amount of the deficit could not yet be stated, as all figures had not yet come to hand.

It is believed that the illness of Mary Garden, which postponed her appearance for several days, causing a number of changes, was a principal reason for the deficit, and that if the attendance during the first week had been as good as in the second week, which marked the appearance of Mary Garden, all would have been well.

FAMINE WIPES OUT VILLAGE

LONDON, April 12.—The entire population of one village in the Volost Verkhne Oozlon, Tartar Republic, has been wiped out by the famine. This report, made by J. Rives Childs of Lynchburg, Va., American Relief Administration supervisor for that district, has just been received at the London office of the A. R. A.

"The entire population has now perished of hunger," writes Childs. "Word has just been brought in that the last four Tartars have died."

Though the A. R. A. on February 1 was feeding 301,054 children in this district, Childs estimates that there are between 300,000 and 500,000 others who are not being reached by any relief agency and who must depend on a scant supply of substitutes for their lives this winter. Fourteen ounces of edible clay per day is the total supply available in some districts.

"I think also that the calm, almost stoical manner in which the people are treading the path to death deserves to be recorded as showing a spirit unexampled by any people in recent years."

Latin Quarter of Paris Becomes Thing of Past

By FRANK E. MASON.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, April 12.—Bohemia, the land of Mimi, Trilby and Svengali, of poor painters and sculptors, of threadbare students and poets is no more. Devastated by war, it takes its place with Rheims and Chateau Thierry among the ruins of a land that was. Bohemia has become a tradition.

The joyous student of the Latin Quarter, with a bottle of wine in one hand and his sweetheart held by the other has become a myth. The students are still there, in smaller numbers, to be sure, but they are no longer joyous. They are serious, tense, strained, counting the fictional French coin which has disappeared since the war, the centime.

L'Oeuvre urges that the government subsidize the universities to give students enough money on which to live. The number of students is diminishing daily. The Rumanians, Czechs, Serbs Polish and South Americans, who formerly came to Paris for their education, are rapidly disappearing. Many are going to the German universities, where the cost of living is said to be from one-half to one-third the price of Paris.

LIVING COSTS GO UP.
American art students who wish to complete their studies in Paris would do well to investigate the cost of living today rather than ask the advice of the graduates of Paris of other years. The figures published in the Review of the University of Paris indicate that the life of a student at this school costs at least one thousand dollars a year. The days when the students lived on thirty to fifty dollars a month are gone, it seems, forever.

Transposed into dollars at the current rate of exchange, the bare necessities for the student are about as follows, according to the review:

Room, ten months, at $13.	$130.00
Laundry, ten months, at $2.	20.00
Breakfast (cup of coffee).
$1.50 a month.	15.00
Lunch and dinner at university subsidized restaurant, drinking water, but no wine, 60 cents daily.	180.00
Street car fare $1.50 a month.	15.00
Three suits each two years.	50.00
Overcoat.	30.00
Pair shoes and repairing.	18.00
Shirts and underwear.	20.00
Hat.	4.00
University fees.	25.00
Books.	25.00
Newspapers, postage, stationery.	10.00
Dues University Association.	2.50
Total.	$541.50

WORK IS ONE REMEDY.
To this estimate of the cheapest grade of the bare necessities must be added railroad fare and other expenses. The student mustn't smoke, may never take a glass of wine or beer, never go to a theater or movie, not be sick or pay doctor's fees—in a word, he must live a hermit's life in Paris, which is, to say the least, improbable if not impossible.

To combat the H. C. L. students have been forced to abandon the carefree camaraderie of Bohemian life and imitate their American cousins in an effort to work their way through the university. Students self-help has been assisted by the eight-hour law, which in many other respects has done so much to damage French reconstruction and delay return to normal. In olden days a student would not have been able to have secured work, because the employer would have insisted upon a ten to twelve-hour day. Today the employer who even permits his employee to work longer than eight hours is in danger of being punished by the courts.

NOT SYMPATHETIC.
The Paris University, however, has not yet developed the sympathy for the self-supporting students which is found in America, and the faculty is said to frown upon the people who don't devote their entire time to the school. As a result many students are able to take only part-time work. This is especially disheartening to those who already have been set back five years by the war in getting into work in their life profession. The schools are filled with embryo doctors and lawyers twenty-eight to thirty years of age.

L'Oeuvre demands that the government give some attention to the number of candidates in the medical and law schools. Unless some assistance is given the future may see a dangerous lack of representatives of these two professions in French life. For the law course takes five and the medical college seven years and there are comparatively few French families today who can face the outlay of from four to seven thousand dollars to give their sons a professional education.

BUILDING MEN BACK ON JOBS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—A number of bricklayers and plumbers who, protesting against the American plan, left their jobs in San Francisco last Monday, have returned to work. According to union officials, the men have done so under strict union conditions, but this is denied by officials of the Builders Exchange.

The Industrial Association of San Francisco yesterday began making arrangements to bring in thousands of builders from other cities, if further walk-outs take place. Warren MacBryde, president of the association, states that he has many applications from skilled mechanics who are desirous of coming to California.

The workers complain of having to work alongside unskilled men. They also protest against the high rate of accidents on buildings.

OPEN DOOR AT WHITE HOUSE IS NOT 'JOKE'

New Policy of President
Breaks Handshaking Records.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—President Harding, carrying out his policy of the open door at the White House, is shaking hands annually with more than 150,000, close friends estimate. He is breaking all White House hand-shaking records, the oldest attaches say. The handshaking list probably averages close to 3000 a week, counting the numerous White House receptions to official society and the scores of conventions which meet in the capital each year.

As a result tourist guides and rubberneck wagon managers are reaping a golden harvest. With the coming of spring, hundreds of out-of-town visitors troop up to the White House daily to shake hands with President Harding. If they have the proper letter of introduction from their congressman—who in view of the approaching campaign is only too glad to issue these—they are likely to have little trouble in passing by the alert secret service men into the big round room where President Harding works.

CONSIDERED BOON.

The open door at the White House has been a boon to railroad companies and sightseeing excursion managers. Whole schools, sometimes numbering 400 or 500 students, flock in. Delegates from almost every convention that meets in Washington are sure of being received by the president. School teachers, lodge members and large families crowd into the small executive offices and stand in line to be ushered into the president's office.

Once the preliminaries are arranged through a friendly congressman or senator, the rest is easy. The delegation gathers in the White House grounds in front of the executive offices just before 1 o'clock, when the president's business engagements for the day are supposed to end. Police officers and secret service men line up the visitors in double file and start them back through the corridor to the president's office in the rear of the building. Two secret service men man the door leading into the president's office and the visitors are guided into single file and each person is carefully scrutinized as he passes the guards. All are requested to keep their hands out of their pockets and no one is allowed to carry packages. The United States secret service takes no chances.

President Harding, on these occasions leaves his big arm chair and takes a position out in the center of his office. Although the visitors are rushed through at the rate of about thirty a minute, President Harding, by long practice has acquired a knack of giving a warm personal greeting to each one. Usually there is a brief pleasant conversation. Women often tell him they cast their first vote for him. Old men who voted first for Lincoln are frequent. They always mention that red letter day in their early life. Some mistake a dignified secret service man at the president's elbow for a cabinet member or other high official and shake hands with him too.

"Doesn't he just look like a president?" most of them exclaim on reaching the outside air. Sometimes Laddie Boy, the White House Airedale, who is brought over to meet the president as he goes to the White House proper for lunch, is playing around impatiently and he must submit to fondling.

Thousands go through the White House every week also. Cards are easily obtainable and the doors are practically open to all who come. They go upstairs and wander around in the East Room examining the gilt opera grand piano on which Paderewski and many other famous musicians have played. Sometimes Mrs. Harding happens to be passing and the tourists have the privilege of chatting with her a few minutes.

CITIZENS PROTEST GARBAGE DUMP IN WATTS TRACT

Police and Street Officials
Will Put An End to the Nuisance.

Vehement protest by a large delegation of Watts tract citizens to the City Council this morning called attention to the promiscuous dumping of garbage at the lower ends of many streets, including Union and Alameda. Assurance were given that the police and street department officials will end this nuisance. The harbor department will co-operate to cover over the garbage by pumping sand upon it from the waterfront.

George Geider, who led the delegation, asserted that property has steadily depreciated in the district affected.

A communication from the Civic League of Improvement Clubs backed the arguments of the Watts tract citizens.

Bids for the raising and lowering of the submarine cable from Goat Island during dredging operations on the western waterfront were rejected by the council.

"Is it necessary that the city pay for any such job?" asked Commissioner Baccus.

"We are trying to get the federal government and the water companies to do it," said Commissioner Carter, "but unless we succeed we must do it. The cables run right across the international channel."

All bids for dredging the mudflats in front of the estuary quay were also rejected and the city dredger will do the job.

An amendment to the building ordinance, describing the type of heaters and gas radiators which can be used, was passed to print with the approval of the fire chief and underwriters.

The city engineer was requested to prepare proceedings to improve East Twenty-eighth street west of Twenty-fifth avenue.

CAMP FOLLOWERS FOUND IN ACT OF ROBBING HOME

Livermore Man, Quick On Trigger, Captures One of Duo Invading Home.

LIVERMORE, April 12.—Robert Lawrence, an employee of the Al G. Barnes circus, was arrested here after being captured by Adolph Johnson, whose house the former was trying to rob. Johnson was lying down on a couch in the front part of the house taking a nap while his wife was attending church. He awoke and heard someone striking a match. Realizing that his wife was being struck a match, but would turn on the electric light, he suspected something was wrong. Slipping to the back of the house, he saw a negro running away, and he fired a shot at him. After missing the man, he returned to the house, and just as he was entering he saw Lawrence, another negro, crawling out from underneath a bed in one of the bedrooms. The negro started to run and Johnson fired at him, but missed. The negro ran out onto the back porch, and as Johnson fired the second shot he fell over on a bed there and surrendered. Lawrence and his pal evidently selected the Johnson home as the object of their robbery, owing to the fact that seeing no light in the house, they supposed the occupants to be at the night performance of the circus. It so happened that Johnson had a headache and had stayed at home. Johnson was night-watcher here for over sixteen years.

PYTHIAN HOME SITE INSPECTED

TURLOCK, April 12.—The state fight for the site for the home of the Knights of Pythias was materially advanced yesterday when the grand lodge committee inspected the site at Waterford which the county of Stanislaus is proposing to give as the future home of the order. A beautiful California April day greeted the visitors, and additional charm was added to the occasion by the abundance of wild flowers that extended their cheerful welcome to the inspecting committee. The committee was headed by Grand Chancellor J. S. Brown, of Los Angeles, and the inspection was made of the site that Waterford is offering for the home. The visitors were entertained by the Pythian Sisters of the Twin cities of Waterford and Hickman. The inspection of the site showed the location to be a finely situated area of 105 acres, 18 acres of which were planted in grapes, and the balance raw land. The value of the site is set at approximately $225 per acre for the whole, it was understood that the owner is donating a portion, some 20 acres, provided the lodge purchases the balance. The visitors were favorably impressed with the site, and the result of their determination will be planned before the meeting to be held at Chico, May 13.

Church to Send Auto Buses for Members

MODESTO, April 12.—Something new in service by a church is planned by St. Anthony's Catholic church for Easter morning. The church will send out free motor buses to bring in the members who do not happen to own automobiles. The buses will start from Ceres and Keyes Sunday morning at 9 o'clock sharp, and the members will be taken to station themselves along the two highways leading into Hughson. The plans are told by the Rev. Father Charles Phillips, pastor of the church, who has become the leader of the church since his arrival there recently. Hughson is a town of about 800 inhabitants.

Brown caused the arrest of George Murray, a sub-contractor on the same project, charging him with failing to observe the state laws regarding camp sanitation.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, April 12.—Methods of financing the construction of a building permanently to house the Eden Township Products Show are now rapidly taking form. It is believed that the plan, in all detail, will be ready for submission to the people for their approval at the next meeting to be held April 19 in Native Sons' hall.

It is generally believed by members of the committee that the money will be raised by the sale of membership tickets in a non-profit incorporation to be organized to finance the project. A site for the building has already practically been decided upon.

The money will have to be raised; it is understood, either by individual contribution. Success of the proposal will be more assured, members of the committee apparently feel, if the former method is adopted. The committee will meet Friday night and again before the 19th.

It is estimated that $50,000 will purchase the lot, erect the building and pay for all incidental expenses. Captain D. W. Plerson is now working on plans and specifications of the building, to be submitted to the people of the township on the night of the mass meeting.

The night of the mass meeting is set as the starting point in the active campaign which backers of the proposal are assured will result in the construction of the building. Reception of the proposal by people of the township generally is characterized by leaders in the move as indicative of their intention to back the project. The township is adopting a more united front on this measure, its endorser here say, than any other of recent years.

HEALTH CENTER PROGRESSES

HAYWARD, April 12.—Plans for the establishment of an Eden Township health department are so rapidly assuming definite proportions, according to M. A. W. Lee, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that members of the committee working for it are practically assured of its being created. The chamber's committee met Monday afternoon to discuss the matter and on Thursday evening Dr. F. W. Browning, chairman, and W. H. Daniels, a member, will go to Castro Valley to talk with the Castro Valley Parents Teachers Association on the matter.

Approval of the plan to raise the city's portion of the $6000 needed to establish the department by a tax of one cent a quart on all milk sold in Hayward has been secured. Milk is selling here now for ten cents a quart, or at a lower rate than anywhere else in California.

Establishment of the department, it is pointed out, will insure further sanitation and compliance with health rules now demanded of local merchants and will assure the public of pure

Who's to Be Next Mayor, Asks Lodi

LODI, April 12.—Who'll be the next mayor of Lodi? That is the burning question, now that the election is over. Two members of the board of trustees favor J. W. Shattuck, a new member of the board. He is non-committal, but is believed to be in a receptive mood. Trustee C. A. Rich is ill and cannot be seen and another member is out of town. F. O. Hale, re-elected, has been on the board for 16 years and has twice served as mayor. It is believed he has no further aspirations in that direction, though he undoubtedly could have the office for the asking. When the new board organizes early next month it will choose its chairman, who will be mayor ex-officio.

GRAND LODGE TO VISIT FAMOUS OLD MISSION S. J.

Native Sons Barbecue to Bring Thousands to Historic County Landmark.

MISSION SAN JOSE, April 12.—A tremendous revival in the move to restore the California missions is expected to be one of the results of the barbecue to be held here April 19 by the grand lodge delegates of the Native Sons of the Golden West, according to residents here who for years have been hoping that the restoration work done on the historic Mission San Jose years ago will be in time completed.

When word was received here that the Alameda county parlor of Native Sons had chosen Mission San Jose to hold the barbecue, local residents expressed the belief that the event would prove the greatest boon to the town in the last fifty years and immediately preparations were made by progressive citizens to have the community do its gala dress for the occasion and provide a full hearted reception to the Native Sons.

That the greater number of the 5000 persons expected to attend the barbecue will visit the old mission and inspect its rare collection of relics handed down and carefully preserved from the days of the padres is the belief here. It is said that the result will be a renewed interest in the restoration plans, that California's most notable historical landmarks may be preserved to posterity.

Father Leal, priest of Mission San Jose parish, including the communities of Warm Springs, Irvington, Sonoma and Mission San Jose, is one of those most optimistic in his forecast of the results of the visit by the grand lodge delegates.

The order of Native Sons has been most prominently identified with the work of restoration of the mission. Due to their efforts the inroads of time have been halted and the old structures have in a measure been saved. But further work is necessary and it is difficult to appreciate the need fully without an understanding of the historic and artistic value of the mission gained from first hand knowledge of conditions," said Father Leal today. Father Leal for years has given his time to insure that Mission San Jose will be restored.

That the missions are one of California's most potent attractions to eastern tourists is the belief of Father Leal who says that the greater number of visitors to Mission San Jose register from eastern states.

Mission San Jose is noted for its rare collection of vestments and for several famous works of art, principally among which is a "Ecce Homo" statue brought from Spain in the eighteenth century. To this statue is credited the conversion of the Indian tribes of this section, tradition says.

STREET SIGNS TO BE ORDERED BY IRVINGTON C. C.

Rapid Growth of Town Creates Need of Sign Posts.

IRVINGTON, April 12.—Every street in Irvington will be named and designated by modern street signs, according to plans to be followed by the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

A committee of which E. E. Carroll is chairman, and of which V. M. Cramer and M. Madrius are members, was appointed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night to learn the cost of various types of street signs and to submit a report at the next meeting.

It is planned to have the signs in place within the next month.

"The need for street signs has become one of the problems facing the community as the result of the expansion of the town under the building and industrial boom. New streets have been made necessary by the large number of new subdivisions on which many new houses are being erected, and the signs will come as the result of the number of inquiries made by strangers here seeking to locate the homes of Irvington friends," said Thomas J. Powers, president of the chamber.

At the meeting committees in charge of arrangements for the dance to be given Saturday night in Maple hall for the benefit of the Chamber of Commerce treasury reported that all details had been attended to and that preparations had been made to entertain one of the largest crowds ever to attend a dance in this community.

ARROYO PATIENTS TO SHARE IN EASTER JOYS

The observance of Easter Sunday will be shared in full measure by the patients in the Arroyo sanitarium near Livermore. For them the day will bring special services, music, flowers, entertainment and other diversions.

The day's program has been arranged for by the Alameda Christmas committee which carries on its activities not only at Christmas but through the entire year as well.

The committee has arranged to provide 200 Easter baskets, flowers, eggs, dancing, a program including song, recitations, instrumental and vocal numbers, and an out-door picnic. Moving pictures will be taken of the main features of the day's program.

The committee today issued a call for automobiles to be used in transporting those who plan to spend the day at the sanitarium. The need, according to the committee, is particularly urgent. Persons who are willing to donate the use of their automobiles can telephone the information bureau of The Tribune, Lakeside 6009.

The start for the sanitarium will be made from the Hotel Oakland at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Luncheon will begin at the sanitarium at 1:30 o'clock. The program will start at 2:30.

Man Loses Appeal In Damage Action

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The appeal of Joe de Carli of Alameda, Contra Costa county, was lost in the district court of appeals here yesterday. He had appealed from the decision in his damage suit against the Associated Oil Company for injuries received by him in 1920 while in the employ of the oil company.

De Carli received $730 under proceedings before the State Industrial commission. He later sued for damages in the sum of $15,000. The lower court refused to grant the damages and this court of appeals upheld the lower court, on the ground of precedent and also because De Carli already had obtained financial relief.

LOCATION OF BUILDING IS NOW SOUGHT

700 Members Attend First Annual Banquet; Board Is Elected Unanimously; Established, Leader Says

NORMAN DE VAUX, who was elected president of the Athens Athletic Club at the first annual meeting last night.

The Athens Athletic Club, which was organized last night, held its first annual banquet and election of officers and directors at the Hotel Oakland last night.

The meeting was attended by more than seven hundred members of the new organization, and officers and directors were unanimously elected. The club also named a membership committee, a site committee and a building committee.

According to the plans, the site for the home of the club will have been selected by May 11 and work on the building will start immediately thereafter. Meanwhile a membership campaign will be conducted.

CLUB IS ESTABLISHED.

L. C. Fraser was elected chairman of the membership committee last night, with instructions to "clean up" on all applications for membership. Every membership application will be covered by the committee and new prospects interviewed.

"We now have 2300 applications for membership," said Lynne Stanley, secretary-manager of the club, "and of these more than half have been accepted. It will be the duty of the membership committee to interview the balance."

"The club is now established. Last night we complied with the incorporation laws in every respect, and we have sufficient money to get ahead."

At the meeting last night all of the luncheon and civic clubs were represented by the individual president and Kenneth McLeod, representing the Olympic club on the platform.

"MOP UP" PLANNED.

The personnel of the site and building committee is being withheld at present, according to Stanley, in order that the members may accomplish their work quietly. The committee will report on May 11 to the general organization.

Tomorrow night the "mop-up" committee of one hundred, a permanent organization, will hold an executive meeting. This committee will have the task of finishing up the detailed business of all sorts, particularly membership.

In addition to the officers, the following directors were named last night: Lynne Stanley, secretary-manager; Frederick Kahn, Joseph P. Carlson, H. C. Capwell, George A. Ames, Carsten E. Schmidt, Max Horwinski, C. J. Heeseman, Walter F. Johnston, Joseph H. King, J. W. Miller and Joseph J. Rossborough.

GROSS LOSES HIS RIGHT TO APPEAL

Ousted Deputy Food Inspector Refuses to Appear at Civil Service Board Hearing; Averred Chance Gone

Los Angeles—Former deputy food inspector who was dismissed at month ago by the state board of food inspection, and appealed from the dismissal, today told President John Charles of the civil service board that he would not appear at the hearing. The appeal was to have been heard at 8 a. m. Gross, who was dismissed, averred that he had no chance to appeal further.

Gross was dismissed at the time Police Sergeant John Henry N. Anderson resigned. Both actions followed an investigation by Commissioner Frank Colburn, who learned that Gross and Anderson were joint conspirators in a $100,000 deposit box supposed to have been a fund for the defense of Patrolman Charles Nightingale when the latter was in trouble.

In a dispute over the fund, Gross and Anderson split and their mutual recriminations formed the basis for the testimony which was to have been introduced before the civil service board last night. The board last night set the hearing of the appeal of Patrolman James Garvin for next Tuesday night. Garvin was once indefinitely suspended when it was charged he was implicated in a bootlegging episode. The case broke down in the federal courts and he was freed. Meantime he had appealed against suspension.

He was reinstated last Tuesday and ordered to appear before the board of police. Failing to do so, he was discharged for insubordination. He then appealed against this discharge. He asserts he did not know he was reinstated and re-charged.

Three Rules Laid Down for U. C. Students

BERKELEY, April 12.—Three fundamental rules of conduct for university students have been announced by the college welfare committee to simplify all of the edicts made by organizations during the present semester.

Fear of giving too many laws, including the number of the rules, is given by that committee, welfare chairman, as the reason for the new announcement.

"The whole question of campus behavior was being laid down," says the chairman.

"1. Common decency forbids us to tolerate drunkenness at parties of university men and women."

"2. Our house spirit requires in us a trust never to cheat nor to allow cheating of any kind."

"3. Good taste demands that we do not dress at a party in a degrading manner."

"The strict observance of these rules," he continues, "will bring the number of problems of student conduct down to an encouraging minimum."

COMMENCE DAY WITH A SONG, SAVANT URGES

BERKELEY, April 12.—Start the day with a song and there'll be no trouble ahead.

At least so says Professor C. H. Brown, of Stanford University, who is filling a place in the philosophy department at the university vacated by the resignation of Professor C. H. Rieber.

Professor Brown gives enthusiastic approval to a Song Day campaign inaugurated by students. Starting before classes begin, pupils students and faculty members alike in good humor, says the professor, who urges that the plan be not only inaugurated in Berkeley but at Stanford as well.

"I am under this belief to obey the chief."

KEY ROUTE BRIDGE PLAN HEARING SET

Officials From Commerce and Navy Departments and Engineers to Be Heard as to Goat Island Terminal

Public hearings to determine the feasibility of plans for the bridging of San Francisco Bay from Oakland to Goat Island will be held in Oakland on Friday in June, according to the announcement received today by Key Route officials from Washington.

Present will be officials from the Department of Commerce, the Navy Department and the Army Engineering Corps. The question of possible interference with navigation and bay channels, and hindering of plans of the navy will be considered, and the application of the national given a consideration.

This call for a bridge from Goat Island and a ferry service to San Francisco. They contemplated a terminal on the island and on the bay will house several railroads. Company officials, in the application, pledge that the facility will be available to any limit which may wish to use them, and that there is no disposition on the part of the Key Route to secure monopoly of the privileges.

A week ago President Harding announced that he would name a commission to make the investigation following a suggestion by Secretary Herbert Hoover.

NEW PLANS FOR STADIUM BEFORE REGENTS OF U. C.

BERKELEY, April 12.—New plans for the proposed $1,000,000 stadium in Strawberry Canyon submitted by Professor John Galen Howard, university architect, are before the regents today.

J. S. Hutchinson, San Francisco attorney, who declines but legal restrictions will prevent the regents placing the stadium in the canyon site, announced today that the fight against the athletic board would be carried to the legislature.

While presenting his claims to regents individually, no official communication reached the board yesterday from Hutchinson and no discussion of his charges featured the meeting. Professor Howard presented his plans for the stadium in an executive session of the board.

PLANS KEPT SECRET.

The drawings were not made public, according to Hutchinson, because the regents had not had sufficient time to consider them thoroughly.

According to Hutchinson's claims a certain strip of land that would fall within the proposed stadium boundary was condemned in 1875 for the purpose of providing a water supply to the university and the California Institute for the Deaf and the Blind. He declares that only the State Legislature has the power to change the use of the land.

In the event that his communication is ignored, Hutchinson announced that the legal points involved will be presented to Attorney General J. S. Webb.

TEACHING STAFF.

Under the chairmanship of Guy C. Earl, the regents in the afternoon session continued their business to the appointment of the teaching staff for the academic year 1922-23 and to the announcement of gifts to the university.

Through the gift of an alumnus, President David P. Barrows announced it will be possible to bring to the university for a semester Sir Paul Vinogradoff, corpus professor of jurisprudence at Oxford University, Eng. He has his degree from Oxford, Durham, Cambridge, Harvard, Liverpool, Calcutta and Berlin universities.

Sir Paul was famous as an educator at Moscow, leaving there after a conflict with bureaucratic authorities.

Among the gifts announced yesterday by the regents was $3000 from the history commission of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

STANFORD DRIVE MEETING CALLED

Herman Rittsche, county chairman, has named tomorrow evening for the final organization meeting of the men and women who are to win the Alameda county's quota of the First Million for Stanford endowment fund.

Downing, Dr. Charles Dukes, C. S. Hodapp, William Knowles, Harry Price, Girard Richardson and Ralph D. Weber. Serving with them as lieutenants will be Miss Mary Lar, from Oxford, Durham, Cambridge, Harvard, Liverpool, Calcutta and Berlin universities.

Haranous refused to be taken to a hospital and was removed to his home.

Accompanying a large number of the resident Stanford men and women and will mark the formal inauguration of the First Million for Stanford campaign. While no pledges or subscriptions to the fund will be solicited at that time, the occasion will be a means of acquainting all Stanfordites with the purpose and necessity for the present endowment campaign.

BUILDING RECORD GROWS STEADILY IN EAST OAKLAND

Four-fifths of Residences
Erected in That Section of City, Is Pointed Out.

By L. B. MAGOON
President East Side Board of Trade.

Why do we believe in East Oakland?

Because of those material accomplishments in growth and development which are the best evidences of things unseen.

While the essence of our belief is the faith that hath understanding, we are content to point out, upon evidence of what we are actually doing in East Oakland to make a prosperous community of happy homes. We take it that this sums up all of the reasons why East Oakland is built.

There are at least three very dependable items of evidence which show the relative development of East Oakland. They are:

1. The number of home building permits issued each week.

2. The amount of travel leading from the center of the city.

3. Increase in registered voters.

RULES OF HOMES.

1. For the last fourteen months four out of every five homes built in Oakland have been built in East Oakland.

2. Recent check of street travel by city auditor shows that more traffic passes over East Twelfth street and from East Oakland than passes Fourteenth and Broadway in all directions. The traffic to and from East Oakland over East Twelfth street is greater than all the traffic passing in and out of San Pablo, Telegraph and Broadway combined.

3. The Great Register of Voters of Oakland shows in the last two years a greater increase in voters in East Oakland than the increase in voters in all the remainder of Oakland, which reinforces the evidence of the building permit record.

CONCLUSIONS GIVEN.

These are the facts. What are the conclusions?

The center of population of the city is shifting and moving rapidly from the center along the line of East Twelfth street and the estuary and the northern hills. This is the only direction in which the city is growing.

The city is growing in the north, the bay of San Francisco on the west and the estuary and tidal canal on the south, the city can extend left, right and center.

As a result, all its development is in the center direction, it will grow in the center almost four times as fast as it would if it could expand equally in four sides. The plan of building permits each week shows that is exactly what is happening.

More homes mean more retail business. As the city grows out and distances from business center increase, retail business must follow to keep close to the home customer. In Oakland the main source of business to the retailer is the home customer. Transient business from the back country is comparatively light. We are proud that Oakland is so predominantly a home city. This is the strongest factor in developing her outside business districts and inevitably lessening the influence of investment in the central business district. Business investment today is greater than ever before, but it is following population, cutting down the distance between merchant and home customer to the greater convenience and economy of the buyer who pays all cost of distribution.

DIRECT SERVICE.

In a city such as Oakland, where the home customer predominates, direct service is the present stage of development. The branch store is the big merchant's only answer. He must follow the trend of the commercial times. Witness the grocery and market branches which large corporations are extending now in Oakland to the outside home business districts.

As a striking illustration in East Oakland, around the Southern Pacific Seminary station there is developing a new business district which is destined to absorb the retail business of a large home territory. In the growth of East Oakland there has developed a business district at about every one mile interval, it being necessary that there be a sufficient distance between each business district so that residences may come in between and support each district from all sides. First avenue, Thirteenth avenue, Twenty-third avenue, Fruitvale avenue, Melrose and Seminary avenue are the main home business districts in East Oakland, and it appears that the experiences of business development in the older business districts are now to be repeated around Seminary station, which is the fare limit station and the same distance from Melrose that Melrose is from Fruitvale, which avoids unprofitable competition.

SEMINARY STATION.

As indicating the permanence of these outside home business districts, conditions at Seminary station are illustrative. More than seventy thousand dollars in new stores have been invested there in the past ninety days. The new market store is a central in appearance and service arrangement with any downtown market store. There is installed the new counter refrigerator method of caring for and displaying meat and other perishables. The third component of this sort in all the Eastbay cities. In addition to the staple grocery, meat, dairy goods departments there is a full coffee roasting plant turning out fresh roasted coffee and a new brick Dutch oven, 10x12 in which is baked all the bread, cake, pies and pastry sold in the market. The floor area housing all the departments of food supply is equal to that in the usual downtown market and the overhead expense for each department in doing the same volume of business is considerably less than in the downtown store.

HARVEST OF HOPE.

Now may be the time for a short paragraph of prophecy? East Fourteenth street and the home business districts of East Oakland, including with those mentioned the districts of Dimond, Elmhurst and Fitchburg, will ultimately carry the major retail business investment of the entire city. This ultimate is on its way faster than a cat's paw.

The merchant of Oakland knows that the star of business empire is going east—not to arrive in the next and bye—but in the sweet bye and bye. Take our word for it and join us in the harvest of hope not to be long deferred or be convinced by the logic of events. In other cases the end of the trail of your unbelief is in sight.

FAKE SHOOTING SCARES LIONS' DEN AT DINNER

RICHMOND, April 12.—Just as the weekly luncheon of the Richmond den of Lions got under way at Busch's Inn yesterday noon the diners heard the screams of a terrified woman, followed by several revolver shots coming apparently from an adjoining room. Most of the diners changed color, while others rushed for the door just in time to see Chief of Police Wood and Officer Ceredoni, armed with pistols, in hot pursuit of an employee of the inn.

It required several minutes to restore calm, but after a while the truth came out—it was only one of the weekly stunts put on by the original Lions' entertainers.

East Side Commerce Shows Increase

DEVELOPMENT OF PARK PROPERTY HELD PARAMOUNT

Tremendous Growth of East Side Makes Prompt Action Vital, Says Sanborn.

By EDGAR M. SANBORN
Member of Board of Park Directors

With the tremendous development of the great East Side district, which will be witnessed within the next few years, the acquisition and development of park lands will become a paramount issue. Within the next decade undoubtedly this whole region will be thickly populated as far as the city limits, making necessary the reservation of parks at frequent intervals, to preserve the requisite amount of fresh air and opportunity for recreation.

The chain of mountain parks and the redwoods which are to be voted upon at the time of the August primaries, form a large natural park reservation, immediately available for this whole district.

With the passage of the bonds immediate steps should be taken to secure the extension of the mountain park chain as far as possible into the heart of the city. This can be accomplished by the extension of the Dimond Canyon parkway, following Sausal creek to East Fourteenth street. The banks of this creek have, up to the present time, formed a barrier which has resulted in poor street circulation, and retarded the growth of the region. The strip of land on each side of the creek should be reserved as permanent public parkway with drives on both sides of the creek and frequent cross connections.

This parkway would average from 150 to 200 feet in width, including the stream bed. Ideally the development should be amplified at several points to include the fine bits of existing scenery. There are clumps of oak trees along this canyon and beautiful estates, such as the Spring property, and the block at Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street, that make this proposal a very attractive one. In fact, it is as fine as Trestle Glen, and such a parkway as the one proposed would be much more available to the city as a whole than any other parkway which would have to cross this parkway, and it would form a natural connection with the great recreation grounds to be purchased by bond issue in the fall.

There are several improvement clubs in the East Side district that are actively considering the purchase of small local parks by

New Home of Paint Firm

Situated in East Fourteenth street is the new brick front home of H. R. Dow's Paint Company. The building is of concrete and is 30 by 90 feet.

New Paint Store Is One of East Side's Best Buildings

The new paint emporium of H. R. Dow, well-known Fruitvale paint merchant and contractor, has recently been completed and presents a notably attractive appearance as to both exterior and interior. The building is of concrete, 30 by 90 feet, with shop in rear, 30 by 40 feet. The store front is brick. The store is situated at 3332 East Fourteenth street. H. R. Dow, proprietor, will give his whole attention to the contract work, while W. E. Barry will be store manager. A complete line of Glidden paints and varnishes is carried in the new store, all the old stock having been disposed of prior to leaving the former location. In wall papers the celebrated Robert Griffin line has been placed in stock. A complete line of painters' supplies is stocked, including Morck brushes. The Dow institution is said to carry the largest stock of wall paper in the Eastbay region. It is extensive in variety and the show room for this department is most modern and complete. The stock is arranged along the end of the room in which comfortable settees enable customers to take their ease at just the right distance for deciding on the best effects.

The whole store is finished in gray, a color which does not interfere at any way with observing correct color values in paint samples or wall paper. The shelves are adjustable and any size can of paint can be shown without waste of space. Scientifically advanced lighting, with ample quantity of light, completes a service which will be appreciated by Fruitvale residents as well as visitors from other sections of the city of Oakland.

The indications are that the whole community is awakened to the possibility of a brilliant future and the citizens are taking the initiative in preparing for the future in supporting an adequate system of public parks and boulevards.

East of the Lake Oakland's Fastest Growing Section

MEMBERSHIP OF TAXPAYERS' BODY BARES PROGRESS

Motives of the East Oakland Organization Purely Non-Political.

Among East Side organizations that have come to the front fast with a large and enthusiastic membership is the East Oakland Merchants and Taxpayers' Association. Its motives are strictly non-political and its sphere of activity extends from Lake Merritt east to the west line of Nineteenth avenue, and from the waterfront to Mulberry street, or the old city character line, embracing what was the original town of San Antonio, which in the early 70s was the most active business section of Alameda county.

Its object and aim is to establish better feeling among the business men and property-owners, encourage new enterprises and stimulate business conditions by patronizing neighborhood institutions.

Its merchants and professional men have contributed liberally to this cause, and in addition to enterprises of a commercial nature, have equipped a baseball team and grounds which are located east of Crowley's shipyard, thereby keeping many of the younger element off the streets. Frank Perry, professional ball player, is the team manager. William Allen of Brooklyn, cigar store is manager of the grounds. The advisory board is: Sinder, the pie man; Risdon, of Risdon Bakery, and Wheatley, of Mother Cookie Co. It has been arranged that any club of young men may use the baseball free.

OLDEST STORE IN COUNTY THRIVES

"The oldest store in Alameda county," established sixty years ago, has a history that is unique even among those old California institutions that have survived the pioneer days. The store of H. Tum Suden commenced doing business in 1862 within four blocks of the present location of H. Tum Suden Mercantile Company at East Fourteenth street and Eleventh avenue. In 1862 the "heart of Oakland" was at the corner of East Twelfth street and Fourteenth avenue. Since that time Oakland has moved to the west, a big city has been built west of Lake Merritt, and the trend of industry and commerce is re-establishing old East Oakland and the entire East Side as a scene of important business activity.

The district now known as East Oakland, as distinguished from other East Side localities, runs from Lake Merritt to an arbitrary dividing line established by the local commercial organizations at Nineteenth avenue. H. Tum Suden Mercantile Co. is therefore centrally located in this district and enjoys a trade and influence beyond the ordinary. George Tum Suden, son of the founder, is president, and Andrew McEllhatton, secretary-treasurer of the company. Tum Suden is also active in local public affairs and is president of the East Oakland Merchants and Taxpayers' Association.

of charge by obtaining permission from Manager Allen.

The association's first Troop Nine, Boy Scouts, its initial backing and fostered it until it became self-supporting. A bureau of unemployment has been established and help extended needy families.

In addition to his prominence as an East Side realtor, Knapp is active in the Twenty-third Avenue Business Men's Association and chairman of its advertising and publicity committee.

Grocery Section of Market Is Opened

After several months' delay, the grocery department of Mueller Bros. Market, at Melrose, has arranged to open this week, as has also the fruit and vegetable stand. Mueller Bros. have decided to operate the former on their own account for the present. Joseph C. Radiesel has leased the latter. He is an experienced man in this line and has a location for display and sale of these goods that could not be improved upon. The addition of these two departments to those already operating in this beautiful and sanitary market gives to Melrose shoppers an exceptional opportunity to buy everything needed for the table in one of the finest markets in Oakland.

ESTABLISHMENT OF BANK BRANCH PLEASES DIMOND

Recognition of East of Lake by Conservative Concern Is Held Justified.

Recognition of the importance of the East Side by the old, conservative First Savings Bank of Oakland comes as a great surprise to most people of Dimond, where the first East Side branch of that institution is to be located. Property has been purchased by officers of the bank just south of Brookdale real estate office on Fruitvale avenue, opposite Dimond Grocery Co. Plans for the new bank building are now under consideration, with work to be started soon in expectation of having the new building ready for occupancy early in August.

Arrangements are also being made for the use of temporary quarters for the new bank, and as soon as these arrangements are completed the Dimond branch will begin to transact a regular banking business.

The officers of First Savings Bank and First National Bank, with which it is closely allied, are among the most prominent financial men of the bay region. The president is P. E. Bowles, also chairman of the board of American National Bank, San Francisco. O. D. Jacoby and P. A. Dinsmore are vice-presidents and F. D. Moyer, cashier of First Savings Bank. The branch manager for Dimond has not yet been appointed and considerable interest is being expressed as to whom the bank will choose for this office.

The First Savings Bank has only established two other branches during its entire existence as one of Oakland's foremost banks. These are in West Oakland and Berkeley, respectively, and both have been operating several years. Very thorough study was given by the bank officers to business conditions and probable future development of the East Side, and the location of the first East Side branch at Dimond is considered as establishing this one of the many East Side business districts upon a basis of unquestioned permanency.

WOMAN SENT TO PRISON.

MODESTO, April 12. — Ageda Esquibel, 25, will have the distinction of being the first woman from Stanislaus county to enter San Quentin prison. Judge Fulkert sentenced her and two companions. The three robbed the general merchandise store of M. E. Luke at Hughson on the night of February 3 and were sentenced for that offense, although they also confessed to robbing the store of A. C. Hart & Co. at Oakdale on the night of February 17. A large share of their loot has been recovered.

Realty Firm Opens Larger Quarters

Ralph Knapp, prominent East Side realty dealer and moving spirit in all progressive activities of Twenty-third avenue district, has been compelled by increased business to seek larger quarters. He has recently moved from the well-known location on East Fourteenth street to a more commodious and centrally located office at 1407 Twenty-third avenue.

In the new location the sales force will be enlarged. Three salesmen will be employed in looking after the extensive real estate business of the office, while the head of the office will devote most of his time to insurance and to closing the most important of the real estate sales.

In addition to his prominence as an East Side realtor, Knapp is active in the Twenty-third Avenue Business Men's Association and chairman of its advertising and publicity committee.

$20,000 Building on East Side Planned

Intense interest has been aroused in East Oakland by the announcement that a group of investors whose names are withheld for the present have definitely decided to erect for business purposes a block at the northwest corner of Thirtieth avenue and East Fourteenth street, to cost approximately $20,000.

This building on the remaining vacant corner at Thirtieth avenue will give new impetus to this center and there have already been received a number of applications for space, which are now under consideration. It is the intention of those interested in the building to secure tenants that will be of the class that will not only be reliable tenants but will also have a standing which will add to the prestige of the Thirtieth avenue district.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 12.—One of three armed bandits who yesterday entered a private home and robbed a number of women while they were playing cards, is in jail here today. He thoughtlessly left his address with his victims.

Frank Harrington, 22, was arrested shortly after the robbery. Harrington's name was found on a slip of paper he handed one of the women when he gained entrance to the home by representing himself as "from the gas company." A companion helped Harrington search the women, while a third man served as a "lookout."

The slip of paper proved to be a notice from a bank advising Harrington to pay a note which was due.

Dr. Blue added that the United States would be threatened if any of the disease-infected immigrants reaching these ports were allowed to embark for the United States.

Disinfection and delousing facilities, according to Dr. Blue, who arrived in Paris today, are either inadequate or do not exist at all. He said there was an unending stream of plague-ridden pilgrims; Christians and Moslems, wending their way to Jerusalem and Mecca. During the last year 98,000 Turks had gone to Mecca.

There are 65,000 Turkish refugees in Constantinople, according to Dr. Blue, who are in a desperate plight from disease, famine or exposure.

MARKET TO HAVE NEW LIGHT PLAN

Entirely new developments in lighting arrangements for large buildings have been incorporated into the plans for the new Eastbay market building at Telegraph avenue and Nineteenth street, according to Maury I. Diggs, architect for the structure.

Diggs made a special study of market lighting which occasioned trips to several of the larger cities of the Pacific Coast and Canada and involved experiments in botanical chemistry of an entirely original nature.

"It is generally known," says Diggs, "that plants exposed to too much light of a direct nature will wither. It has also been generally observed that vegetation grown in darkness is white and sickly looking. Combining these two common observations with the fact that vegetables, like cut flowers, will continue to grow after being taken from the nourishing earth, has led to a new departure in lighting ar-

"This will be done by a system of indirect lighting, crossing of the sun's rays and by coloring the glass work of the market in such

Exide BATTERIES

Bright Lights on the Farm

Out on the prairie, in New England valleys, on lonely mountain sides, thousands of farm homes, churches, schools, and stores are now electrically lighted by the current from Exide Batteries. A large majority of all small electric light and power plants on farms and on yachts are equipped with Exide—the long-life battery.

You use an Exide Battery daily—every time you telephone it is the current from an Exide that sends your voice over the wire. Submarines are propelled under the sea, as are mine locomotives below the ground and street trucks and electric passenger cars on the ground, by Exide Batteries.

Exide was the pioneer battery in automobiles as well as in the other fields where batteries are used. The result is a starting and lighting battery of long-lasting power—a matter of real comfort and economy to you in motoring.

When you require a new battery, or repairs on any make of battery, we hope for an opportunity to show you the calibre of Exide service.

ARMY OFFICER'S
SUICIDE WAS 7TH
IN HIS FAMILY

In Addition, One Relative,
Civil War General, Was Slain by Son.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The suicide of Major Frank W. Duryea, U. S. A., who ended his life in his quarters at the Presidio yesterday with a service pistol, is the eighth violent death in the Duryea family, it became known today. In the opinion of psychologists who were today attempting to determine a reason for the major's act, heredity was probably responsible.

Seven of the Duryea family killed themselves and one was murdered by a son.

NO MONEY TROUBLES. Major Duryea, who was 49 years old, was found in his quarters by brother officers yesterday, dying from a bullet wound in his temple, self-inflicted. He was in charge of the finance department, and at first it was thought that he might have had money troubles. An investigation disproved this theory.

Only last July the major's cousin, Harry H. Duryea of New York, killed himself after his sister, Mrs. R. O. Anderson, had filed legal objection to his actions as executor of the estate of their father, the late General Hiram Duryea, Civil War commander of zouaves.

Shortly before that time Louis Duryea, another cousin, living in Brooklyn, took his own life. In 1918 Andrew H. Duryea, son of Horace G. Duryea and also a cousin of the late major, killed himself with a shotgun at Glenhead, Long Island.

GENERAL SLAIN.

Two years before, General Hiram Duryea, uncle of the major, and a Civil War commander of zouaves, was murdered by his son, Chester B. Duryea, in New York City. The son was later adjudged insane and sent to Matteawan. After the general's death it was learned that he had willed the bulk of his estate, valued at several million, to the son who had slain him.

Eliza Duryea, divorced wife of Clarence Duryea, committed suicide in September, 1912. Walter Duryea, a cousin, died after breaking his spine in an accident.

Miss Alice Duryea drowned herself in mid-Pacific, leaping from the deck of the steamer Manchuria on February 17, 1911. Her home was at East Orange, New Jersey.

In 1901 May Duryea, an actress, was charged with driving Dr. William Landon Simpson of New York to his self-inflicted death.

Carquinez Power Line to Be Rebuilt

Reconstruction of the overhead cable across Carquinez Straits is planned by the Pacific Gas and Electric company in order to transmit the power from the Pitt river electric power plant to the bay cities, according to announcement made today.

The span is 4427 feet in length, one of the longest ever built, and the increase in volume of hydro-electric power from sixty thousand to one hundred and ten thousand volts necessitates a complete reconstruction of the towers on both sides. The work will cost $269,000. The company also plans a 50 per

TRUCE TO END
ULSTER BORDER
WAR ARRANGED

Peace Conference of Southern Ireland Rivals Called in Dublin.

BELFAST, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—A truce has been declared between the Ulster special constables and the Free State troops which have been in menacing proximity along the Fermanagh border between Ulster and South Ireland, it was announced today.

Sir Basil Brooke, commanding the Fermanagh specials, crossed into Free State territory at Black Lion, near Belcoo yesterday, and conferred with the rival leader. The interview was harmonious and an agreement was reached under which both sides will withdraw their forces short distance from the border line.

Each commander agreed to punish intruders of the past. The pact does not bind the supporters of Eamonn de Valera, who are massing on the shores of Lough Lavin near the town of Carrigan, where they have erected a large telescope, and are keeping constant watch upon the specials. Last evening a dozen motor cars brought reinforcements for the Republicans.

BELFAST, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The peace conference between leaders of the opposing parties of southern Ireland will open in Dublin tomorrow afternoon, it was announced here today.

Lord Mayor O'Neill of Dublin, informed the Belfast Telegraph correspondent in Dublin that Stephen O'Mara, lord mayor of Limerick, also had been invited to the conference and had accepted. Eamonn de Valera, Charles Burgess, Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith accepted yesterday.

Lord Mayor O'Neill, who has been largely responsible for the move to bring the rival leaders together, was asked as to the scope of the conference, whether it was called to discuss the question of unity or only the best means of restoring order.

"You never know what will happen," was his somewhat enigmatic reply.

FOUR MAIN EVENTS ON AUDITORIUM BOXING CARD TONIGHT

UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI ATHLETES DUE IN BERKELEY TOMORROW FOR MEET WITH BEARS

EDDIE DIGGINS COMES BACK FOR A BATTLE WITH BENNY VIERRA

Tod Morgan vs. Dynamite Murphy; Young Farrell vs. White; Kelsey Meets Jones Again

By BOB SHAND.

It isn't often that T. Jeremiah Simpson waxes enthusiastic over any of his pugilistic offerings but the little red-headed promoter enthuses over tonight's card at the Auditorium. "If they don't pack the joint tonight they never will," was the way Mr. Simpson expressed himself this morning when asked if the little four-rounders were all in condition.

"They're all fit as a whole flock of fiddlers," said Simpson, "and, if I say it myself who shouldn't—it is some considerable card. There are four main events on the top and some of the preliminaries would be main events in a lot of towns I know of and some of them are bigger than Oakland."

It is quite possible that Mr. Simpson has reference to the Dreamland shows across the bay where there have been offering Eddie Diggins and a flock of second rate lightweights. Diggins comes to this side of the bay this evening after a long absence and will tackle little Benny Vierra, the young man who has been the sensation of the local public season. Benny has been winning bouts so easily that there is no telling how good he is. He made a solid debut in a new deck last week and he is quite sure he can defeat Diggins. The latter seems to have retained his old form and if he has not forgotten how to hit he may spill the beans for Benny tonight. Diggins makes a mean kick in his right hand and the punch does not have to travel far to be effective. In boxing ability there is little to choose between the two, but even Vierra's most ardent admirers will try to claim that Benny is in the same class as Diggins as a hitter.

Tod Morgan Has Chance to Become Champion.

Tod Morgan, the most promising boxer turned out in the West in many a year, shows in the special event with Dynamite Murphy. Morgan has flashed across the pugilistic horizon like a meteor and shows no signs of landing. When he matched Morgan with Joe Lynch the was boys had a picture of a home-town idol getting all messed up by the tough guy from the big city. Morgan got a draw that night. When he rematched the pair it was the consensus of opinion that Tod was lucky to be alive after meeting Lynch once and that he would surely get his chance to come out in the return match. Morgan won. Last week he sent him in against George Solis, a boy who had kicked Midget Smith, Joe Lynch and other tough ones and Tod won all the way. He simply brims over with class, this little guy from Vallejo, and he stands a better chance of reaching the top than any younger who has been developed here in many years.

Young Farrell and Eddie White in Return Bout.

Young Farrell and Eddie White are scheduled for a return bout. The split fifty-fifty two weeks ago, but most of the customers thought Farrell should have had the decision. White did not seem to be in the best of condition last night. Farrell was the most points in the first two rounds of that meeting, while White waited until the last two rounds to show his stuff. Farrell was the champion of the Los Angeles section and he is going to have the battle of the night tonight if Morgan boxes as he did last week.

Trojan Track Team Loses to Indians 86-40

Schofield New Discovery for Stanford in 880; Hartranft Fails to Place in Discus.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY. April 12.—Several more surprises were in store in the meet with the University of Southern California on the local oval yesterday afternoon when Stanford won 86 to 40.

Coach "Dink" Templeton discovered that he has another crack half-mile runner in the person of Norman Schofield. Schofield was formerly a 440 man and he started training for the longer distance event last season. He didn't show any great ability until yesterday's meet, when he captured first place in the event, leading the race in 2:10.4. He didn't show any great ability until yesterday's meet, when he captured first place in the event, leading the race in 2:10.4.

Hartranft made a great first start with a mark of 122 feet 3. After the competition closed he continued to vault and cleared the bar at 12 feet 6 inches. This is the best mark he has made this year.

Lane Falk got his revenge in the hurdle race, which was won by the Trojan in the high hurdle race, and then came back and beat "Cap" Rogers in the low hurdle race. The Trojan won the low hurdle race in the Los Angeles meet.

FIVE EVENTS WILL FEATURE UNIVERSITY DAY AT CALIFORNIA

Missouri Track Team Is Due Tomorrow—Stanford Opposes Bruins in Four Spots.

By DOUG. MONTELL.

The University of Missouri athletes, fifteen strong, will arrive in Berkeley tomorrow and limbering up work will start in preparation for their dual meet with the University of California on the Berkeley oval next Saturday afternoon. The meet will be the third dual meet in as many years arranged by California with a representative track team from Middle Western colleges, Illinois having come West in 1920 and Michigan in 1921.

In both former meets the Bruins were able to defend their home oval successfully against the invading hordes and expect to do likewise on April 15 against the Tigers, who by the way, are reputed to be the most formidable track aggregation gathered together at the Missouri Valley institution in recent years.

Coach Bob Simpson expects his men to more than hold their own in the Valley. Christie's trained men in the coming meet, although it will be the first outdoor competition of the season for the Missouri team, interest of the Stanford boys in the meet is set up by his men during the indoor season which ended two weeks ago.

SCHEDULE FOR BROADCASTING TO STAY AS IS

Request for Change in Wave Length Is Denied by Washington.

The present radio broadcasting schedule now in effect in California will remain on the 260 meter wave length until the Washington radio conference convenes again for final recommendations which will form the basis for laws governing broadcasting. This was made certain yesterday when A. H. Halloran, president of the Pacific Radio Trades Association, received a telegram from Washington denying the request of the fifteen broadcasting stations in Northern California for a change of wave length.

The Radio Trades Association, representing the broadcasting stations, recently requested that the stations be classified in three sections—first, newspaper broadcasting stations; second, electrical stores, and third, department stores. The request was to the effect that these stations be allowed to operate on separate wave lengths until final settlement of the broadcasting problem by the passage of laws.

Broadcasting Schedule

Following is the radio broadcasting schedule for tonight, beginning at 5:30 o'clock:

- 5:30 to 6:30—Sacramento Bee, news and concert.
- 5:30 to 6:45—The Examiner, news and concert.
- 5:45 to 7:00—Rockridge, news, financial and weather.
- 7:00 to 7:15—Fairmont Hotel, concert.
- 7:15 to 7:30—Oakland TRIBUNE—Western Radio Institute, Hotel Oakland, complete news summary of the day, foreign and sports.
- 7:30 to 8:15—Rockridge, concert by orchestra.
- 8:00 to 9:00—Sacramento Bee, concert.

Courses in Radio To Start April 14

A course in Radio will be started in Oakland on April 14 for the benefit of those interested in installing radio apparatus in their homes, announces the Technical Department of the University of California Extension Division.

The course will be a continuation and an enlargement of the five talks and demonstrations given last week at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. The work will be more technical than the instruction given in the lectures last week. It will include demonstrations in the theory and operation of radio apparatus with particular attention to the apparatus used in the transmission and reception of radio telephone speech and music.

Herbert E. Metcalf, radio expert, who conducted the talks and demonstrations last week at the St. Francis Hotel, will be the instructor. The first meeting of the course will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at 221 City Hall, and will be open to the public.

Reports Sought By Radio Editor

Those who have received TRIBUNE radio receiving sets, either audio or crystal, are requested to inform the radio editor of The TRIBUNE as to what kind of results have been obtained. Some report excellent results on the crystal sets, while others have not fared so well, due in many cases to poor installation. Practically all who have received the audio sets report good results.

It is for the purpose of checking up on each set that this request is made, for The TRIBUNE desires that everyone be pleased with his instrument.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Daily

By Edward M. Davis

LESSON No. 25.
RECEIVING CIRCUITS.

All ideas can be conveyed through the use of language, and as there are many languages, an understanding of one or more enables a person to grasp ideas as they are intended. Pictures and drawings have been used for ages to convey ideas and their use constitutes one of the most simple and impressive of all languages. Through pictures the artist, draughtsman or layman can depict scenes, houses, machinery and even the connection of electrical apparatus better than would ever be possible by words alone. In radio certain definite drawings or "symbols" have become conventional through usage to indicate various parts of apparatus. By use of these symbols apparatus may be assembled on paper and with connecting lines to represent wires, the proper relation of each piece of apparatus to others may be shown.

The following assembly shows a number of the most commonly used symbols and their interpretation.

VAUDEVILLE ACT IS BROADCAST BY TRIBUNE'S RADIO

Fans Throughout Country Are Treated to Novel Program.

Radio fans throughout the country received a treat last night when McCormack & Winehill, appearing this week at Loew's State theater in Oakland, sang and joked on the ether waves. The comedy kings appeared in their turn at the State theater, staged but half of their act, then rushed to The TRIBUNE's broadcasting station on the Hotel Oakland, where the act was finished. So far as known it was the first time that a vaudeville act has been broadcast by radio.

That the fans appreciated the stunt was evidenced by the number of telephone calls that came into the broadcasting station soon after the act. One fan in Stockton spent 55 cents to tell The TRIBUNE that he thought the vaudeville sketch was one of the funniest things he had ever listened to over his receiving set.

RADIO INVITES SHRINERS.

An invitation to witness the three pageants of the Shriners' convention in San Francisco in June was broadcast by radio yesterday from the Fairmont station by George Filmer, convention chairman.

Pending further improvement, in order that the maximum results may be obtained, manufacture of 87 crystal sets sponsored by The TRIBUNE has been temporarily held up. A great number have been distributed and a number are now ready. These, however, will not be distributed until the contemplated improvement is made. The manufacturers, or any one else, are not authorized to distribute sets until further notice.

This does not include the audio sets, however, which is being distributed from the Western Radio Electric Company's new headquarters at the corner of Franklin and Twelfth streets. A supply of the audio sets is on hand now and will be distributed as fast as possible.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

by IRVIN S. COBB

What It Meant in English
A certain newspaper man in New York is fond of gathering up stories of metropolitan life. He loves to prowl about the foreign quarters studying the ways of the aliens who make up so large a proportion of the population of Manhattan Island.

Once upon a time a Russian who furnishes him with tips on doings among his own people, brought word of a big wedding celebration that was going to take place in one of the Russian colonies over near the East River. The journalist expressed a desire to attend the festivities.

"Dass is easy," said his friend—"so you get a hajjek." "A hajjek, eh?" said the puzzled journalist. "But you see I don't even know the couple. Why should they send me an invitation?"

"No, no!" said the Russian; "nod an invitation—a hajjek! So you get a hajjek, you go by the vedding; you dance mit the bride; you haf a fine time!"

"Say," demanded the puzzled American, "how in thunder do I get one of those hajjeks?"

"My friend," said the Russian; "listen! you go by the hall where is the vedding. You go in. You gif your hat to the boy and for fifty cents you buy a hajjek—and there you are!"

So the newspaperman spent half a dollar on a hat check and danced with the bride.

MAN DRIVING FIRST CAR THROUGH TRAFFIC.

Scene: Man coming down busy boulevard. Surrounded on all sides by speeding autos and taxicabs.

Sees policeman hold up his hand. Begins to pedal wildly with his feet. Steps on accelerator. Goes by policeman. Policeman lets out a blood-curdling yell. Man jams on everything and stops, killing motor.

Subtitled: "Where the hell do you think you're going?"

Man blinks and swallows hard. Wishes he could poke policeman. Finally is allowed to go ahead. Stops successfully at next crossing on signal. Policeman whistles for him to go ahead. Gets excited and shoves gear in reverse. Backs into taxi and breaks headlights. Roars of rage from taxi. Roars of rage from delayed motorists. Roars of rage from policeman. Man gets still more excited. Puts it in first, steps on gas and leaps at policeman. Policeman barely escapes with his life.

Subtitled: "Where the hell do you think you're going?"

Man now all a-tremble. Heart throbs, knees quiver, Adam's apple twitches. Bumps into taxis. Nearly gets run down by a horse and wagon. Barely escapes assassinating group of women. Sees nothing but policemen afoot and on horseback. Finally gets to office. Pulls in to curb and is immediately chased. Finds another hole around block, but is chased out of that. Is then chased out of loading zones, street crossings, fire plug spaces, building entrances, etc., etc.

Decides to give car away as soon as he can get out. Finds one more place to park. Sees policeman coming. Begins to wince. Begins to cringe. His heart stops beating and then starts up three times as fast. Policeman draws near. Policeman smiles and speaks kindly to him. Man faints.

When he comes to he learns policeman's name is Ed Gall. Writes letter to Chief of Police telling him of this most unusual policeman. Chief can't believe it.

But the man doesn't come down into traffic again for days and days and days.

Ho, hum. It's getting to be a long time between scandals. How sharper than a serpent's tooth is an ungrateful republic. Perhaps this thing could be compromised by accepting the bonus in principle.

The more we study the present civilization, the better we understand the case of Sodom.

The trouble seems to be that the parties stand for nothing and the people stand for anything.

The epidemic of hip-flasks doubtless is due to the fact that the law is no inspector of persons.

You can paint the old car and take out the old squeaks, but it still resembles the daddy of freaks.

There appears to be some inexplicable estrangement between Colonel George Harvey and the headlines.

As we look over the headlines, it occurs to us that if the devil gets his due it will be the residue.

These English celebrities don't give us our money's worth, anyway. Not a one in the lot wears a monocle.

The guilty don't always escape. The man who sells bootleg may not be punished, but the man who buys it is.

Very likely democracy will never reach the point where a buck private can call a second lieutenant Old Timer.

CHERRY CROPPING DANGER BECAUSE OF HEAVY RAINS

Frost Damage to 'Cots and Vegetables About Bay Put at $4,000,000.

The rain last night was not an unmitigated blessing. While it temporarily removed the fears of the apricot growers, it was a disaster to the cherry growers, who fear injury to the blossom from the rain. The frost was not at all welcome to the cherry growers, who fear injury to the blossom from the rain.

Further reports of damage to the apricot, grapes, currants and early vegetables from frost put the damage at over $4,000,000 for the bay region. The revised estimates of the loss in Santa Clara county are around $2,000,000. The only section of the county that escaped damage was that along the western foothills between Palo Alto and Los Angeles.

Other counties about the northern part of the bay as far north as Sonoma report no damage. The estimates of which have not yet been computed.

The early potato loss will be quite large and the money loss to the current men around San Leandro and San Lorenzo will be over six figures. The current men are working here and Milpitas was today among the "total losses."

Grapes in many sections in the county have been seriously injured. The damage to the grapes is estimated at $1,000,000.

Arrivals in the wholesale produce markets today were confined to 3 cars of spuds and a limited quantity of grass. Prices were unimpaired. The market for strawberries got on the regular quotation list today at from $3 to $2.50 a crate.

California will again furnish a liberal portion of the world's produce crop for the spring and summer months. The market for strawberries got on the regular quotation list today at from $3 to $2.50 a crate.

Prospects are exceedingly bright for a heavy crop of almonds, peaches and grapes. All through the northern valleys, said MacDonald, and growers are exceedingly confident of a bumper crop. The market for strawberries got on the regular quotation list today at from $3 to $2.50 a crate.

Other agricultural prospects are equally good, and the outlook is very bright. The market for strawberries got on the regular quotation list today at from $3 to $2.50 a crate.

Though the Nevada lambing season has not progressed to a point where the outlook is complete, a survey of the situation, it is estimated that the losses this year will be heavy, due to the late start and the inability of sheep to get feed on the lambing grounds to provide milk for the lambs.

In the eastern part of Nevada, and especially in the northern part, the losses will be heavy, due to the late start and the inability of sheep to get feed on the lambing grounds to provide milk for the lambs.

Orange growers in Oroville district, acting on the suggestion of the California Citrus Experiment station, have begun experiments with four types of oranges other than the Washington navel.

The first of these is the "Tango" orange, their quality, early maturing and bearing characteristics, will be determined by the experiment station.

Dr. H. B. Gentry has selected four types from 500 varieties of selected hybrid oranges, now growing at the Riverside Citrus Experiment station. Two of the varieties are seedlings.

SOLE SUPPORT, IS DROWNED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Tragedy was brought home to an aged and partially blind woman today when the body of Frank Murphy was identified at the coroner's office following its recovery from the bay yesterday.

Young Murphy was the sole support of an aged mother and she depended upon him to cook her meals and wait upon her. Every morning he would prepare breakfast, returning from work in time to get ready the noonday meal. At night he cooked the dinner.

Several days ago he failed to return after breakfast and Mrs. Murphy, worried and helpless, appealed to neighbors to notify the police. Today J. B. McKeon of 822 Twenty-second street identified the body. The Murphys live at 325 Dor.

Suspect Held on
Auto Theft Charge

Thomas E. Atchison was held to answer to the Superior court today by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell on a charge of attempting to sell a stolen automobile. His bail was fixed at $2000.

He was arrested on the complaint of R. M. Duncan of the West American Insurance Company, who paid the claim of J. J. Powers of the Parkview Apartments, the owner of the automobile.

The machine was stolen in February and later was recovered by the police in the garage of Pete Cadario, where he said it had been left by three men. On March 8 the car was stolen again.

When Atchison attempted to sell the machine to Carl Santoni, he became suspicious and notified the police. The automobile was then stored in a garage of Mrs. E. D. Asmus, 4533 Thompson street. The other two men were not caught.

Gras Is Lively

MISS ORO TAYLOR (above) and MRS. GLADYS BLANCHARD (below), two of the candidates for Queen of the Shrine's Mardi Gras.

As many as 2000 votes have been secured by some of the candidates entered in the Queen contest for the Shrine's Mardi Gras and every entrance to the contest is according to an announcement today by John Donnelly, who is in charge of the contest. The fight for votes formally opened today, and a preliminary of 1000 votes was offered to each candidate who secured 100 votes by the opening day.

The Queen contest will be an important part of the Mardi Gras, in that the Queen will participate in all of the events scheduled for the week. Entrance to the contest is general throughout the bay region, and candidates have been entered from San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Roseville and Livermore. Two of the most recent contestants are Mrs. Gladys Blanchard and Miss Oro Taylor. W. I. MacDonald announced today that he has taken over the active management of the campaign for Miss Taylor. MINIMUM PAY
IN C. VERIES
CUT TO $15 WEEK

A $1 reduction in the minimum wage for women workers in California has been put into effect by the Industrial Welfare Commission following extended study and discussion.

The new ruling, which gives the minimum wage of $15 a week, will affect those women who are employed in fruit and vegetable canning and packing, general manufacturing, fishing industries and unclassified occupations. Women in mercantile lines, laundries, hotels and restaurants will continue to receive the $16 minimum wage which has been in force, the employers in these lines having made no request for the reduction.

A full membership of the board was present when the new wage was fixed, including A. B. Dolman, Walter G. Mathewson, Mrs. Katherine P. Edson and Henry Lewis. Mathewson was the only one to oppose the reduced wage. The investigation board members said, however, a year, California, with the $15 minimum. Mrs. Edson said, would be paying a higher wage than any state in the Union.

City Auditorium
Now Stationary
After 'Migration'

The municipal auditorium is now rated as a stationary building. Within the past two months it has not moved an inch. It has not moved at all.

Since the time several months ago when it was found that the big building had settled, with a 10-inch displacement on one of the big roof girders, engineers of the city harbor department and the University of California have been keeping weekly check on the possible movements of the building. While the engineers are not positive, they now believe that the settlement of the made land under the auditorium is now about finished and there will be no more of it.

The discovery that the auditorium had settled came six or seven years after the big building was completed. According to the officials, the settlement may have come long ago and may be all finished by now, although there are some signs that the movement is not altogether completed, and the next few months will tell the tale.

BOY KILLED BY FALL.
ONTARIO, April 12.—A piece of an old wooden ladder collapsed beneath the weight of Avrell N. Davidson, 12 years old, when he was clambering about the falls in Stoddard's Canyon, a few miles north of Ontario, and he fell 60 feet to his death.

GIRLS' SCREAMS
CAUSE FLIGHT OF MISSION BURGLAR

Frightened away by the screams of 45 young women, after he had entered the room of two girls, and threatened to kill them with a pistol if they made an outcry, an unidentified man who broke into the Chinese Mission, 553 East Eleventh street, fled through a window, leaving his umbrella in the parlor as the only clue to his identity.

As a result, police today began a search for something new in criminal history, a burglar with an umbrella.

The prowler entered the building through a window which was unlocked and led into the parlor. Finding the door to the hall locked, he used a jimmy to pry it open, and then ascended the stairs to the second floor of the mission, which has 45 Chinese girl students.

On the dormitory floor, the man entered the bedroom of Miss Nellie Thon and Miss Ahoyie Neg. The girls woke when he opened the door and walked to their bedside with a drawn pistol. They screamed, "Stop that noise!" commanded the man, standing at their bedside and pointing the pistol at them. "If you yell any more I'll kill you!" The girls continued to scream, and their cries woke up the other sleepers in the house. Forty-three

Tribune-T & D Film of Opening
Game on Screen in Few Hours

WHAT is believed to be a record in the rapid development and exhibition of motion picture films, was established last night when pictures, taken by The TRIBUNE-T & D. Camera News, showing the opening Pacific Coast league game in Oakland yesterday afternoon, were shown to a large crowd at the T. & D. theater.

Members of the Oakland team and Cal Ewing, the team's president, witnessed the films as guests of the theater.

The pictures showed the large crowd which filled the stands and bleachers to witness the opener on the home grounds.

Other action pictures caught Outfielder Brown for the Oaks knocking the second pitched ball over the left field fence for a home run. The TRIBUNE airplane dropping the floral piece sent as a gift by Auhmes Temple, and also dropping baseballs for the players to catch. The parade through the business section to the park was also flashed on the screen and many members of the audience recognized themselves welcoming "Old Man Swat."

It was after 4:00 P. M. that the camera man finally left the hall grounds with a "full box." Unusual speed was necessary to get the films in shape for the showing the same night, but the pictures were flashed on the screen, per schedule.

Other feminine voices joined in and the mission was in an uproar.

FRIGHTENED BY SCREAMS.
The prowler hesitated for a minute, pointed the revolver at the head of Miss Neg and then changed his mind. He put it in his pocket and ran for the door. The police were notified and Inspectors William Halldeman and Joseph Earhart were rushed to the mission to investigate. A thorough search of the grounds and the surroundings failed to reveal any trace of the man. In the parlor the detectives found a black umbrella on the table. It had been placed there by the man when he entered and forgotten in his flight. Last night's attempted burglary is the second time within a few months that the mission was entered.
